NFO Holds Demonstration At Bowling Stock Yards

TONGUE LASHING — City police, summoned to the site of an NFO demonstration at the Bowling Stock Yards, received more than one verbal attack from participants. This member of "the weaker sex" questions patrolmen concerning the manner in which trucks were permitted to unload. Bowling allowed only two trucks at a time at the docks, which have a capacity of 10-12, to help curb a "planned" traffic jam at the docks.

The National Farmers' Organization staged a demonstration today at the Bowling Stock Yards.

The movement was apparently well organized, in spite of a statement made by Miles Kahler, county president, that officials of the NFO did not plan or sanction such a demonstration.

Pair Killed At Scene of NFO Picket

BONDUEL, Wis. (AP)—Two men were killed during a National Farmers Organization picketing demonstration today when they were run over by a livestock dealer's truck loaded with cattle.

The dead men were not identified immediately.

The incident occurred in front of the Equity Livestock Cooperative yards in Bonduel, a northeastern Wisconsin community near Green Bay.

About 250 NFO pickets were at the yards when a truck carrying the name Ivan Miller of Cecil, Wis., arrived with a load of cattle. The driver was armed with a pistol. Police took the weapon after the truck entered the gate of the yards.

The pickets were jammed around the truck.

Police said that before they had a chance to push the demonstrators away from in front of the truck the vehicle moved forward, running over the two men.

Sheriff's officers quickly removed the driver and took him through lines of jeering, screaming pickets to the Equity office.

I-71 Completion In 3 Months Is Seen by Engineer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Highway Department today backed up consultant James W. Shocknessy's prediction that motorists will be able to use Interstate 71 and connecting routes all the way to Cincinnati within three months.

Present northern terminus is Medina.

Engineer Frank Williams said the superhighway is 85 per cent complete from Ohio 41 to Ohio 38 in Fayette County, 94 per cent done from Ohio 38 to 7 1/2 miles northwest in Fayette and Madison counties, finished from about six miles south to Ohio 56 in Madison County, 94 per cent complete from Ohio 56 north-west 7 1/2 miles in Madison and Pickaway counties and 89 per cent finished to U. S. 62 at Harisburg in Franklin and Pickaway counties.

An estimated 50 trucks, owned by NFO members, effectively blocked the entrance to the loading docks at the auction yard this morning.

However, Common Pleas Judge William Ammer granted an injunction restraining the NFO from interfering or hindering with the weekly auction, and with persons wishing to do business at the sale.

THE INJUNCTION specifically named the National Farmers' Organization, with headquarters in Iowa, Curtiss Cooper of Trumbull County, an agent of the NFO; Miles Kahler, local president; Fred Dountz, Mildred Davis, Bill Davis, June Sheets, Ray Hanawalt Jr., Bob Drummond, all members of the Pickaway County Organization.

Each of the NFO trucks carried at least one head of livestock.

They were permitted to back to the unloading dock, one at a time, to unload.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Judith B. Menzi was in the ninth day of her hunger strike today and vowed to keep it up until "something happens."

She and other members of the Congress of Racial Equality are demonstrating at City Hall in protest of what they call unsanitary conditions at an apartment house and the city's alleged failure to do anything about it.

"All we want is the city to enforce the laws" on health and housing, said the white Mrs. Menzi, wife of an Episcopal priest. The apartment house is occupied by Negroes.

Mrs. Menzi has spent every night except one sleeping on the City Hall steps. She took time out Tuesday to register her 5-year-old son in school.

Also on a hunger strike was Alistair MacIntyre, a University of Cincinnati student who said he has not eaten since last Wednesday.

Big British Bus Is Just Too Big

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A shiny double-decker bus, pride of the London Passenger Transport Board, may make its first trip in America on a train.

The bus arrived by boat Tuesday en route to a British import fair display at Cincinnati. There was only one hitch—the bus is 14 feet 5 inches high. Overhead bridge and wire clearance here is 13 feet 6 inches.

A spokesman at the British Consulate said, "the only thing we know for sure is that we can get it there by train."

8 Lancaster Farmers Due For Hearings

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Eight farmers arrested at the producers livestock yards here yesterday on charges of violating a court injunction have been released on $25 bonds each pending hearings.

The eight were arrested and carried bodily into a sheriff's van after authorities accused them of blocking cattle-carrying trucks from reaching unloading docks of the livestock yards.

The National Farmers Organization has been carrying on some picketing and demonstrations at various livestock yards in Ohio as part of the group's fight to win contracts with processors and improved prices for their cattle.

The eight arrested here were not identified specifically as members of the NFO. They were Alva C. Watson, John B. Gorsky, Zepha Dearth, David Landis, Thurman Ricketts, Ray Puff, Newell D. Chaney and Douglas Sullivan, all central and south-central Ohio farmers.

The arrests came after Common Pleas Judge Merlin C. Parent had issued an order restraining NFO members from interfering with normal activities at the stockyards.

Officials of the Producers Livestock Co. estimated that the receipts at Tuesday's livestock sale dropped 50 per cent, and added that about 25 trucks loaded with cattle had turned back after noting the crowd of farmers at the yards.

U.S. Regrets British Loan Terms to Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department spokesman Robert McCloskey said Tuesday that "we regret the action taken by the British" in extending long-term credit to the Soviet Union.

McCloskey said the U.S. position against long-term credits to Communist countries is unchanged.

The British granted the Soviet Union credit for 15 years in signing a contract Monday for the sale of a fiber plant valued at about $85 million.

3,222 Students Enrolled in City Schools

Bid Opening Set Tuesday for Two Building Projects

Circleville City Schools opened yesterday with a minimum of problems according to a report made last night to the Board of Education by Superintendent Fritz Jacobs.

Jacobs indicated, during the comparatively short board meeting, that total enrollment for the district would be more than 100 students over last year's final enrollment.

Contracts for the demolition of two properties, purchased by the board, on E. Mound St., were awarded to Dr. John Bowers. The board asked for a completion date of Sept. 30. A bid for $20 was also accepted by the board from Sam Cook for materials in a garage on one of the properties.

Board members were reminded that bids for the new High Street Elementary building and

A total of 3,222 students attended classes today in Circleville Public Schools.

The total figure is expected to increase during the next few days, a spokesman in the superintendent's office said today.

At the end of the 1963-64 term, 3,112 students were enrolled in city schools — 110 less than today's enrollment.

The following is a breakdown of enrollments at the various buildings.

Atwater, 471; Corwin, 162; S. Court, 447; Franklin, 421; High Street, 164; Walnut, 190; Wayne Twp., 83; Nicholas Drive, 242; eighth grade, 253; high school (grades 9-12), 790 the addition at the Mound Street building will be opened at noon Tuesday in Jacobs' office. The bid-opening session will also include contracts for street and utility work in the extension of Clark Drive for access to the site of the new high school.

SUPERINTENDENT Jacobs said that the board hopes to have plans completed by January for letting of bids for construction of the new high school.

Current plans call for the completion of the two elementary projects by September of next year. The new high school is to be completed by Sept. 1966.

In other action taken by the board, Ed Grigg was approved as a delegate to a meeting of the Ohio School Board Assn., slated Nov. 11-12 in Columbus.

An affirmative nod was also given the Circleville Booster Auxiliary to sell rain ponchos during football games this season.

Warm Greetings Exchanged By O-I, Local Officials

Cordial greetings and welcomes were exchanged yesterday during groundbreaking ceremonies at the site of the new Owens-Illinois shipping box plant, and at a luncheon that followed in the Pickaway Arms.

Accepting the "Welcome to Circleville" was Preston Lewis, Owens-Illinois board chairman, and other executives of the firm. He in turn extended his company's greetings to this community.

Helping to place the welcome mat were Gov. James A. Rhodes, Congressman William Harsha, Pickaway Commission chairman Clyde Michel and Dale DeLong, Area Chamber of Commerce president who served as master of ceremonies for the day's program.

Approximately 250 persons were present for the groundbreaking ceremony. About 100 participated in the Area Chamber hosted luncheon session, including Gov. Rhodes, Congress-

Barry To End Spending Spree, Cut Income Tax

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, in a determined drive to pick up the Western states he sees as his presidential base, promises that if elected he will halt what he calls the "wild spending spree" by the Democrats.

"What will your choice be?" Goldwater asked a roaring crowd in Los Angeles' three-tiered baseball stadium. "More power for Washington? Less power for your home state and your town? More money for wasteful government. Less money for productive, individual uses?"

"No. Our choice is progress through freedom!"

Goldwater had his largest crowd Tuesday night — the scoreboard said 53,120 were in the ball park that can seat 56,000 — and he got a rousing welcome, so rousing he couldn't speak until the message was flashed in big lights in leftfield: "Let's hear Barry."

This is friendly country for a Republican presidential candidate.

In 1960 Richard M. Nixon carried California, Oregon and Washington. Goldwater hopes to win them, too.

The cheers rolled in when Goldwater said:

"I will, as one of my first actions in the White House, ask the Congress to enact a regular and considered program of tax reduction. I will also ask that Congress stop the wild spending spree begun by this administration."

Goldwater contended it is possible to cut income taxes five per cent a year for five years

House Vote Set On Health Care

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders hope to bring up President Johnson's proposal for Social Security health care for a crucial vote next Wednesday.

The vote would be on whether to instruct House members of a Senate-House conference to back the Senate-passed health care proposal. Unless the House conferees are so instructed, most members believe the conference would reject the health care plan.

The health care plan — an amendment to a bill raising Social Security benefits — was passed 49 to 44 by the Senate last week. There has never been a test vote on it in the entire House.

His plan, Goldwater insisted, is a "properly adjusted tax reduction," not at all like the one proposed by the late President Kennedy, which Goldwater voted against.

Goldwater's explanation: "I opposed that tax cut and would do so again under the same circumstances. That reckless cut was not intended as a return to responsible fiscal policy, designed to put a brake on Goldwater threw in a couple of asides that weren't in his prepared text.

He was interrupted by applause 57 times during his 39-minute speech.

Integration OK'd Quietly Over Dixie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Public school desegregation spread quietly into some of the smaller cities of the Deep South this week in what one civil rights leader called a turning point for the area.

Union Springs, Ala., a rural-oriented town southeast of Montgomery, faced the test today, when Negroes begin their studies with white classmates.

The community was expected to take the court-ordered integration in stride just as did Montgomery and Gadsden, Ala., Prince Edward County, Va., and Albany, Ga.

Nine more Negroes planned to join 21 others in desegregating schools in Albany, a south Georgia city where hundreds of Negroes were jailed for street demonstrations in 1961-63.

Columbus, Ga., also began desegregation Tuesday, admitting two Negroes to a white school under court order. Every major Georgia city now has begun desegregation.

The pattern of nonviolence was described as "the turning point for the Deep South" by Constance Baker Motley of New York, the NAACP legal defense fund attorney who fought dozens of courtroom battles over desegregation.

"I don't recall any similar year of widespread peaceful compliance since the 1954 Supreme Court decision," she said in New York.

Janowitz waived an extradition hearing Tuesday and was returned to Columbus, where he faces burglary and theft charges.

Jacksonville Now in Path Of Angry Dora

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Dora, still a hundred miles offshore, sent 76-mile-an-hour winds thundering through the ancient streets of St. Augustine today and began lashing at the "charmed city" of Jacksonville.

Whipping the Atlantic Ocean with 115-mile-an-hour fury, the giant storm, which had indirectly taken three lives, thrashed slowly toward the northeast Florida coast at eight miles an hour.

First advance gusts of hurricane force to reach shore knocked out telephone service to Marineland, a tourist spot 20 miles south of here noted for its collection of living sea creatures.

By 10 a.m. (EST), gusts of 76 miles an hour were ripping into St. Augustine and waves were beginning to break over the seawall into Bayfront Parkway, a main tourist thoroughfare in the nation's oldest city.

At the same time, Jacksonville was feeling the first blows of wind and sea. The city of 250,000 never has taken the full impact of a big hurricane.

Tide and wind arrived at Jacksonville at the same time. Gusts of 63 miles an hour snapped a few power lines. Waves began to crash over the seawall at Jacksonville Beach.

Hurricane warnings were displayed from Vero Beach, Fla., to Brunswick, Ga., and gale warnings with a hurricane watch were extended northward to Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Eastern Air Lines canceled its flight today from Philadelphia to Jacksonville, Daytona Beach and Melbourne, Fla. The flight was terminated at Washington.

Thirty miles north of St. Augustine, the city of Jacksonville braced for what could be the first head-on blow by a hurricane in its history. Highest wind ever recorded in this city of 250,000 was 86 miles an hour in gusts in 1944.

A five-foot tide topped by crashing waves rolled into the beach along the ocean side of a narrow peninsula just across Matanzas Bay from St. Augustine.

Another hurricane, Ethel, was "stacked up" in the Atlantic.

The typhoon cut through the Babuyan Channel north of Luzon Island on its way into the South China Sea. There were no immediate reports of damage from the isolated area.

Refugees from Red China reported in the Portuguese mainland colony of Marao that Typhoon Ruby killed more than 20 persons and injured 100 others in Communist country inland from Marao.

The refugees said the storm, which swept Red China's Pearl River delta Saturday, also caused severe flooding in many parts of Kwangtung Province.

Ruby killed 41 persons and injured 300 in the British colony of Hong Kong.

A five-foot tide topped by crashing waves rolled into the beach along the ocean side of a narrow peninsula just across Matanzas Bay from St. Augustine.

Typhoon Sally Packing Winds Of 200 Mph.
MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Sally lashed the northern Philippines today with winds up to 200 miles an hour.

The typhoon cut through the Babuyan Channel north of Luzon Island on its way into the South China Sea. There were no immediate reports of damage from the isolated area.

Sally's fringe winds, struck south Formosa, but no damage or casualties were reported.

Refugees from Red China reported in the Portuguese mainland colony of Marao that Typhoon Ruby killed more than 200 persons and injured 100 others in Communist country inland from Marao.

The refugees said the storm, which swept Red China's Pearl River delta Saturday, also caused severe flooding in many parts of Kwangtung Province.

Ruby killed 41 persons and injured 300 in the British colony of Hong Kong.

15 Indictments Returned by Jury

The September session of the Pickaway County Grand Jury indicted 14 persons yesterday on 15 charges.

Twenty-one witnesses appeared before the jurors who heard a total of 19 cases. Fifteen indictments, (two against one person) were returned by the jury and three cases were ignored due to lack of evidence.

After nearly a full day of deliberations, the jury returned to the courtroom at about 4:15 p.m. with the results.

An arraignment session is to be scheduled by Judge William Ammer giving those indicted an opportunity to enter pleas.

INDICTMENTS are as follows:

Arthur L. Lindsey, assault with a dangerous weapon; George Plummer, failure to provide for minor children; Clarence Sawyer, indicted for rape; Percival Duckworth, carrying a concealed weapon; Billy Joe Riddle, assault on minor children;

Fred Lambert, assault on a minor child; Woodrow Annon, indicted for failure to provide for minor children and issuing checks with insufficient funds; Charles Hamilton, assault with a deadly weapon; J. D. Stalter, embezzlement; Clarence Castle, issuing checks with no account; Richard S. Burris, failure to provide for minor children.

Three of the indictments are "secret" and names of the defendants will not be released until time of arraignment. Cases ignored by jurors were: Ernest B. Happeney, charged with issuing a check with no account; Virgil Jordan, failure to provide for minor children; and William Giffin, failure to provide for minor children.

Members of the jury, after making their inspection of the jail and sheriff's residence, commended Sheriff Walton Spangler for the "neat and clean" general condition of the buildings. Jurors also recommended that

Appalachian Pasture Plan Is Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, has served notice he plans to push for elimination of a pasture improvement program in President Johnson's proposal to fight poverty in Appalachia.

Miller said Tuesday that the $17 million program, which envisions new small farm feeder-calf livestock operations, offers not "real future" to small farmers in the 11-state region who don't have enough land for a really self-supporting unit. It is only "prolonging the agony," Miller contended.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., conceded that the pasture improvement program was one part of the bill that might go by the boards.

"I'm realistic," Randolph said referring to reports of strong opposition to the plan from western and midwestern members.

But Randolph disagreed with Miller's argument, saying "I think it is long overdue that we do something for the family farmer—particularly in Appalachia—rather than merely talk about him."

Randolph opened Senate debate on the measure by calling the program a "valid and constructive approach to at least part of the problem."

The measure, last of Johnson's anti-poverty proposals before Congress, has two major parts: A highway program to eliminate isolation that many blame for the region's economic lag, and massive aid to develop Appalachia's resources and provide additional health and education facilities.

The initial proposal calls for spending $1,077,200,000, but backers said during testimony before congressional committees that the five-year program would eventually cost $4.2 billion.

No votes on the Appalachia program were expected to or Thursday.

Included in the area is all of West Virginia, plus parts of Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Exploratory talks" between two U. S. Department of Labor advance men for the anti-poverty program, and top state officials were held here Tuesday.

Gov. James A. Rhodes' assistant, John M. McElroy, said the Ohioans agreed on a need for intensive coordination at the state level on the work training section of the new federal program. Sitting in on the talks in addition to McElroy were Morris Riger, field director for midwestern states for the Department of Labor; John Craig, Cleveland, Manpower Development and Training Office of the department; State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach; state Supt. of Public Instruction E. E. Holt; Willard E. Dudley, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation; Wayne Fogle, chairman of the Ohio Youth Commission; Robert W. Teater, assistant state director of natural resources, and Robert L. Canary, assistant state director of public welfare.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Daisy Fern Hampton, Columbus; two grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Viola McCommis, 131 Park St.; Mrs. Mary Ogan, Hayward Ave.; Mrs. Mamie Kaltenbach, Chillicothe; one brother, Harry Chandler, Ackley, Ia.

No Medic Is Aboard LBJ's Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who sometimes likes to depart from tradition, flew to Detroit Monday without having a physician or code-carrying military officer aboard his small jet transport.

The doctor and the officer went to Detroit aboard a second plane that flew an identical route. All available space on Johnson's aircraft was occupied by the President and his wife, five Democratic members of Congress from Michigan, two labor union officials, a White House speechwriter and two Secret Service agents.

During the Kennedy administration, and on earlier flights by Johnson, both the physician and the code officer had flown regularly aboard the presidential plane — one available to treat any emergency health problem and the other to hand over top secret codes that the chief executive might urgently need in a national security crisis.

On the Detroit trip, it was learned Tuesday night, the plane that carried the doctor, the military man and other White House aides had a pressurization breakdown and descended from 24,000 feet to 8,000 feet. The White House said this "presented no hazards whatsoever."

The plane was identical in mechanical features to the Air Force Jetstar transport used by Johnson on that day.

Stock Trading Is Active

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors and steels advanced today as the stock market celebrated Chrysler's labor pact. Trading was active early this afternoon.

Wall Street heaved a sigh of relief on news that Chrysler had reached agreement with the United Auto Workers, avoiding the threat of a nationwide strike.

Chrysler was bought heavily. Industrials staged a general advance, putting them further into new high ground.

By midsession, however, the atmosphere began to calm and traders began to take some profits.

Chrysler's best gain of more than a point was trimmed back to a point. Major steelmakers remained generally higher, along with chemicals, rails building materials, retails and rubbers. But the pattern was mixed for tobaccos, aerospace stocks, oils and utilities.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .9 at 320.0 with industrials up 1.60, rails up .5 and utilities off .1. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was 3.75 above the historic closing high reached Tuesday, putting the average at 855.66.

Anti-JFK Picket Files Lawsuit

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A picket jailed after the Nov. 2 assassination of President John F. Kennedy filed a false arrest suit against three policemen Tuesday.

Gene A. Guinn, asked $150 damages in the suit against Capt. Pat Gannaway, head of the police department's special service bureau, and detectives T. T. Wardlaw and M. H. Brumley.

Guinn was one of six persons arrested near the Trade Mart shortly after the assassination. Police said they were waving anti-Kennedy signs. They were held four days for investigation. Guinn said a trespassing charge against him was dismissed and he filed the suit to recover "lost income."

NFO Holds . . .

Bowling Stock Yards.

CIRCLEVILLE Police were on the scene to prevent trouble, but the cattle were not unloaded at the sale.

Entire families were present at the demonstration. Women and small children were as active, vocally at least, as were the farmers.

Not all those present were from Pickaway County.

The lead truck at the demonstration was driven by Robert Drummond, who is the sixth congressional district NFO president.

Drummond stated the NFO intended to act within the law and no violence of any kind was planned.

Violence has erupted recently in many instances during NFO holding demonstrations. The group has been termed 'militant' by some observers.

A SPOKESMAN for the Bowling Stock Yards said today that an estimated 500 head of cattle were in the yards before the demonstration began.

This is considered a near normal run.

Frank Bowling, owner of the local stock yards, has maintained he has a right to hold the local sale for farmers who wish to market their livestock.

Local NFO members requested Bowling not to hold the sale three weeks ago. A rumored demonstration at that time did not materialize.

Kahler stated then that no demonstration was planned. He has repeatedly stressed no violence is planned. However, he noted it is difficult to maintain control of all participants during a holding demonstration.

Rhodes Confirms State History Center Planned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes today confirmed a report that a state history center on the state fairground "is in the planning stage."

The governor said the plan, now only in the "talking stage" would provide housing for the Ohio State Museum, now on the Ohio State University campus, and the state archive, now in the old Governor's Mansion.

The governor would not comment further on the proposal, which would release the museum building, now under the Ohio Historical Society, to Ohio State University for an administrative building. It also would result in the sale of the old Governor's Mansion.

Tentative plans call for financing a new history center out of state liquor profits, perhaps as much as $8 million, preliminary reports said.

Humphrey Gets Ag Task

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has decided to pit vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey against GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in a traditional two-party clash on farm policy.

Johnson has assigned the Minnesota senator to present the Democratic viewpoint on farm problems at the annual National Plowing Contest near Fargo, N.D., Sept. 19.

After some indecision over his campaign schedule, Goldwater has told sponsors of the event he will be on hand. He also has agreed to speak at the National Corn Picking Contest in Sioux Falls, S.D., Oct. 16. There is no word whether Johnson or Humphrey will appear for the Democrats.

The plowing contest, held in a different state each year, traditionally has attracted presidential candidates by offering a large audience for the airing of their views. Sponsors expect a crowd of 50,000 to 100,000 farmers and their families Sept. 19.

Johnson is reported to have

By midsession, however, the atmosphere began to calm and traders began to take some profits.

Chrysler's best gain of more than a point was trimmed back to a point. Major steelmakers remained generally higher, along with chemicals, rails building materials, retails and rubbers. But the pattern was mixed for tobacco, aerospace stocks, oils and utilities.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .9 at 320.0 with industrials up 1.60, rails up .5 and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was 3.75 above the historic closing high reached Tuesday, putting the average at 855.66.

Anti-JFK Picket Files Lawsuit

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A picket jailed after the Nov. 2 assassination of President John F. Kennedy filed a false arrest suit against three policemen Tuesday.

Gene A. Guinn, asked $150 damages in the suit against Capt. Pat Gannaway, head of the police department's special service bureau, and detectives T. T. Wardlaw and M. H. Brumley.

Guinn was one of six persons arrested near the Trade Mart shortly after the assassination. Police said they were waving anti-Kennedy signs. They were held four days for investigation. Guinn said a trespassing charge against him was dismissed and he filed the suit to recover "lost income."

NFO Holds ...

Bowling Stock Yards.

CIRCLEVILLE Police were on the scene to prevent trouble, but the cattle were not unloaded at the sale.

Entire families were present at the demonstration. Women and small children were as active, vocally at least, as were the farmers.

Not all those present were from Pickaway County.

The lead truck at the demonstration was driven by Robert Drummond, who is the sixth congressional district NFO president.

Drummond stated the NFO intended to act within the law and no violence of any kind was planned.

Violence has erupted recently in many instances during NFO holding demonstrations. The group has been termed 'militant' by some observers.

A SPOKESMAN for the Bowling Stock Yards said today that an estimated 500 head of cattle were in the yards before the demonstration began.

This is considered a near normal run.

Frank Bowling, owner of the local stock yards, has maintained he has a right to hold the local sale for farmers who wish to market their livestock.

Local NFO members requested Bowling not to hold the sale three weeks ago. A rumored demonstration at that time did not materialize.

Kahler stated then that no demonstration was planned. He has repeatedly stressed no violence is planned. However, he noted it is difficult to maintain control of all participants during a holding demonstration.

Rhodes Confirms State History Center Planned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes today confirmed a report that a state history center on the state fairground "is in the planning stage."

The governor said the plan, now only in the "talking stage" would provide housing for the Ohio State Museum, now on the Ohio State University campus, and the state archive, now in the old Governor's Mansion.

The governor would not comment further on the proposal, which would release the museum building, now under the Ohio Historical Society, to Ohio State University for an administrative building. It also would result in the sale of the old Governor's Mansion.

Tentative plans call for financing a new history center out of state liquor profits, perhaps as much as $8 million, preliminary reports said.

NFO DEMONSTRATION — The entrance to the unloading dock at the Bowling Stock Yards was blocked by National Farmers' Organization demonstrators today. The NFO members attempted to stop the sale by flooding the area with trucks. There were an estimated 50 trucks along Clinton St. today.

Humphrey Gets Ag Task

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has decided to pit vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey against GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in a traditional two-party clash on farm policy.

Johnson has assigned the Minnesota senator to present the Democratic viewpoint on farm problems at the annual National Plowing Contest near Fargo, N.D., Sept. 19.

After some indecision over his campaign schedule, Goldwater has told sponsors of the event he will be on hand. He also has agreed to speak at the National Corn Picking Contest in Sioux Falls, S.D., Oct. 16. There is no word whether Johnson or Humphrey will appear for the Democrats.

The plowing contest, held in a different state each year, traditionally has attracted presidential candidates by offering a large audience for the airing of their views. Sponsors expect a crowd of 50,000 to 100,000 farmers and their families Sept. 19.

Johnson is reported to have decided that as a Midwesterner familiar with recent agricultural legislation Humphrey was well equipped to state the administration's position.

Whether his decision indicates a pattern of turning over much of the work-horse campaigning to his second man remains unclear. It seems certain that Humphrey will be seen much oftener in the Midwest than the President.

Humphrey has said he is going to campaign in the South, where his strong stand on civil rights has not been popular.

He got an invitation Tuesday from Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who gained national attention on the other side of the Civil Rights fence in the Little Rock controversy, to make two speeches in Arkansas Sept. 17 and 18.

Mainly About People

From noon to 8 p. m. on Wednesday, Sept. 9, polling places located at the Township House in Derby, Council House at Ashville, Town Hall at New Holland, Fire House at Williamsport and the Fire House at Tarlton will be open for persons in these areas for the purpose of new registrations or changing addresses. Anyone in the Circleville area may go directly to the Board of Elections Office at the Court House, Pickaway County Bd. of Elections.

Cloud of Suspicion

Authorities are investigating charges that an agency in New York City called Mobilization for Youth has been infiltrated by communists.

The group conducts a program aimed at fighting juvenile delinquency. It was launched two years ago by President Kennedy and Mayor Wagner. Federal and city money and the Ford Foundation support it.

The investigation is not complete. But the agency admits that nine of its 300 staff members were members of the communist party or red-front organizations in the 1930s and 1940s. This was revealed by an FBI loyalty check.

Because the agency works in the area

Soviet Discovery?

Guess who thinks the old capitalist system of free and profitable enterprise looks like the best solution to Russia's troublesome industrial problems. Viktor Trapeznikov, that's who.

The significant factor is that Trapeznikov is a prominent Soviet economist and that his views were published recently in the Soviet Union. No sooner had they been made public than the technical director of a Moscow automobile plant, O. Volkov, wrote an article for Pravda to agree with Trapeznikov. Said the auto commissar, "The first task is to expand the independence and initiative of the enterprises on the basis of state tasks. There should be a moral and material interest from the director to the watchman."

And how does one achieve this moral and material interest? "Gear production in such a way as to cover expenses

He began a campaign in Cairo, Egypt, more than a month ago to persuade the heads of 33 independent African states to take "the cause of the American Negro before the United Nations' General Assembly this fall."

Precedents have been established for taking domestic issues of other nations before the Assembly. The odds are

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Solving the traveling salesman problem or designing comfortable bras—these and a lot of other sticklers can be handled quickly by a new kind of "Algorithm."

An algorithm is a way of calculating by means of nine figures and zero. A professor at the Krannert Graduate School of Industrial Administration, Purdue University, has developed a new algorithm to be used in conjunction with modern computers. He says the technique lets businessmen select almost instantly the best solution from up to billions of possible combinations.

of social unrest, where communists typically try to infiltrate, authorities are understandably alarmed.

The Johnson administration is unhappy about this potential scandal, seeing it as a threat to the whole anti-poverty program. The agency was a prototype for community action programs envisioned in the anti-poverty bill. The charges of red infiltration come at a time when Congress has not yet voted funds for the anti-poverty program.

William E. Miller, GOP vice presidential nominee, says the charges are "very much a campaign issue." A thorough airing of the situation is needed.

and show a profit." That's what this innovator of the Soviet World recommends.

It is nothing new, of course, for individuals in the free world to assert that the basic flaw in communism is its total disregard of the basic human motivation of individual profit for work done. But it is new when two such prominent communists feel free not only to express their doubts about Soviet economic practices but to suggest that they be corrected along capitalistic lines.

Perhaps this is Russia's new secret weapon. Is it possible the Kremlin hopes to "bury" capitalism by crapping some of communism's economic nostrums and replacing them with a more workable concept? Perhaps, but this isn't likely. Communist minds are capable of only one form of thought.

against the possibility of sanctions being imposed against the United States.

The only result would be that Malcolm X would help fashion a club with which the communist nations would attempt to batter home some propaganda, especially among the uncommitted nations of the world.

Malcolm X would do better to concentrate his efforts on the domestic front, moderating his militant position and leading others away from the violence which has rocked the nation in recent weeks. This would do more for race relations than a dozen charges before the United Nations.

With a traveling salesman, one of management's problems is to decide on the best route a salesman should take to cover far-flung stops most efficiently and most economically. The business conditions under which such trips are made change often. The aim remains the same — make the most profit for his company.

Dr. Stanley J. Reiter, a Purdue research scientist, calls his computer-based program discrete — distinct — optimizing. It selects in minutes the best of many solutions, making the company management happy, and presumably the salesman, too.

Some garment makers also are using computers to come up with the most comfortable bras. In effect, the machine does the fitting from the mass of possible variations, both of the human body and the outer garments, fed into it.

The Krannert system, called quantitative management research, also is applied to scheduling the best method of operating a large job shop, where say five machines and five operations could involve as many as 25 billion sequences in handling a day's or a week's work.

Top management uses many hours of skull practice in setting up a research and development budget or a capital expenditure program. What it wants to know, if possible, is whether the millions of dollars involved will pay off.

Reiter says that his system by using forecasts of costs, market demand, plant site conditions for transportation and labor, and age and population trends in accessible markets, can give management a quick answer on the most likely result of any plan, and the most profitable of many choices.

Abandoned Baby's Mother Convicted

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Melba Foster, 34, accused of leaving her four-day-old baby on a doorstep on Aug. 30, was convicted in Police Court Monday on a charge of child abandonment.

Judge Clarence Denning referred the case to the probation department and said he would pass sentence on Sept. 18.

Mrs. Foster, a maid at a hospital here, said she left the baby on the doorstep because if she had kept it she would have been forced to move. She said she had no way to take care of it. She also said she understood the woman at the house where the child was left wanted a baby. The infant now is being kept at General Hospital.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

PAPER MAGNATE Sam Himmell tells about a wealthy financier who became the virtual slave of a reigning musical comedy queen. After squiring her aggressively for months, he decided to propose matrimony, but cautiously hired a private eye to shadow her for a spell to make sure she wasn't two-timing him. A fortnight later, he received this report: "Miss So-and-So enjoys a spotless reputation, and until this year her behavior has been exemplary. In recent months, however, she has wandered sadly from the paths of virtue, and is now being seen constantly with a banker who is said to be the biggest crook in Wall Street."

EMILY, HAVE YOU SEEN MY NEW PIPE?

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Recently, in our town, a policeman and a taxi driver delivered a healthy, normal baby before the mother could reach the hospital. Our children, 21 and 23, want to know how they could help if such an unusual situation should ever occur to them.

Mrs. K. R. F. Minnesota

Dear Mrs. F.: Everyone should know something about the normal, natural and exciting phenomenon of childbirth, even though such an emergency delivery is not likely to occur.

When it does happen so quickly and unexpectedly it is almost always the child of a mother who has had other babies. In most instances, she actually can direct the activities.

In such a situation, it is best to let nature take its own course. Don't be impatient or try to do too much, too quickly or to heroically.

Wash the hands thoroughly, and keep the "delivery area" as clean as possible. When the baby arrives, keep the child warm and protected. A gentle slap on the backside will make him cry, and thus take his first deep breath. This usually starts normal, healthy breathing.

The baby is still attached to its mother's placenta, or "after-birth," by the thick umbilical cord. Tie a clean piece of tape or string around this umbilical cord, about two inches from the infant's navel. Tie another piece of tape about an inch farther away. With a clean pair of scissors, cut between the two pieces of tape. This will stop even the mild amount of bleeding.

Cover the child's end of the cut umbilical cord with a clean piece of gauze or handkerchief.

On Returning from Holiday

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals is returning to the job after a three-day holiday weekend.

Some, of course, can't stand to be away from the usual routine of office or plant life. They return to it with glad neighs, as an old horse to its stall.

Others of us, on the other hand, need a little reindocination upon having to come back to the chafing of the daily rut. Freedom has made us a bit wild and coltish.

We need again to be reconciled to the thought that, while variety may be the spice of life, it is also good for our immortal souls to be back once more plodding through the old salt mine.

In that helpful spirit we have

By Hal Boyle

assembled some remarks by the sages of the ages on why work is good for what ails us:

"Where our work is, there let our joy be." — Tertullian.

"As a cure for worrying, work is better than whisky." — Thomas A. Edison.

"Let us work without protest; it is the only way to make life endurable." — Voltaire.

"Work keeps at bay three great evils: boredom, vice, and need." — Voltaire.

"Work! God will it. That, it seems to me, is clear." — Gustave Flaubert.

"I don't pity any man who does hard work worth doing. I admire him. I pity the creature who doesn't work, at whichever end of the social scale he may regard himself as being." — Theodore Roosevelt.

Well, there's the case for the joys of good old work. But how about those stubborn rebels who have to be dragged kicking and screaming back to the job?

Here is some consolation for them:

"Never work when hungry." — Hippocrates.

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." — James Howell, 1650.

"Only horses work, and they turn their backs on it." — U.S. hobo proverb.

"I like work; it fascinates me. I can sit and look at it for hours. I love to keep it by me; the idea of getting rid of it nearly breaks my heart." — Jerome K. Jerome.

"Work only tires a woman, but it ruins a man." — African proverb.

"Work is for the birds!" — Hal Boyle.

Coming Struggle for Power?

On the platform at the Atlantic City Democratic convention Bobby Kennedy was a figure to tug at your heartstrings. Behind him, as he spoke so feelingly of his dead brother, there loomed the gigantic pictures of Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey. Together, these pictures could be taken as a portent of sixteen years of the Democratic Party future. With Johnson in the White House until 1972, and with Humphrey taking over from 1972 to 1980, any lingering ambitions that the Kennedys might have for a political dynasty seemed permanently scotched.

A few days later, however, it was not Bobby Kennedy who was the man to be pitied. The person to feel sorry for was Mayor Bob Wagner of New York. Standing on the platform at the New York State Democratic convention at the 71st Regiment Armory on lower Park Avenue, Mayor Wagner praised Bobby Kennedy to the skies in nominating him for Senator from New York. But when the Mayor let slip a tell-tale phrase. He said he was thoroughly convinced "on balance" that Kennedy was the best possible candidate for Senator that the Democrats might choose. The words "on balance" thundered through the hall; they brought up the vision of desperate hours of soul-searching on the Mayor's part about the probable control of the Democratic Party in the State once Kennedy energy, Kennedy prestige, Kennedy money, Kennedy relatives, and Kennedy friends had all gone to work to send Bobby to Washington to fill the shoes once occupied by Herbert Lehman or the senior Robert Wagner.

be in a position to capitalize on the first break of fate between now and that hypothetical 1980.

The stories of feuding between Johnsonites and Kennedys have always been papered over. But the geological fault lines are there to be seen by anybody with half an eye. It is inconceivable that Lyndon Johnson edged Bobby out of Washington. It is equally inconceivable that Bob Wagner, as Johnson's man, does not control the New York Democracy as long as such diverse characters as Harlem's Adam Clayton Powell, boss Charley Buckley of the Bronx, Brooklyn's Stanley Steingut, and Buffalo's Peter Crotty are around. A local power base is patently within Bobby's grasp. And, with brother-in-law Steve Smith's acumen guiding Kennedy affairs, who is to say that LBJ has banished Bobby from party leadership forever?

South Vietnamese villagers are reported to have slain and eaten 200 war dogs sent by the U. S. to protect their towns. Cost of buying and training the canines is estimated at $100,000. That's certainly eating high off the dog.

That $100,000 breaks down to about $6.50 per pound, which is a pretty steep price for pooch chops, pedigreed or not.

A U. S. military spokesman denies the canine consumption story — implying that somebody must be barking up the wrong tree.

Meanwhile, we note Chicago reports the number of its horse-drawn vehicles has dropped from 30 to 29 since last year. However, our guess is that it'll be a long, long time before the Windy City ever rates as a one-horse town.

Cloud of Suspicion

Authorities are investigating charges that an agency in New York City called Mobilization for Youth has been infiltrated by communists.

The group conducts a program aimed at fighting juvenile delinquency. It was launched two years ago by President Kennedy and Mayor Wagner. Federal and city money and the Ford Foundation support it.

The investigation is not complete. But the agency admits that nine of its 300 staff members were members of the communist party or red-front organizations in the 1930s and 1940s. This was revealed by an FBI loyalty check.

Because the agency works in the area

Soviet Discovery?

Guess who thinks the old capitalist system of free and profitable enterprise looks like the best solution to Russia's troublesome industrial problems. Viktor Trapeznikov, that's who.

The significant factor is that Trapeznikov is a prominent Soviet economist and that his views were published recently in the Soviet Union. No sooner had they been made public than the technical director of a Moscow automobile plant, O. Volkov, wrote an article for Pravda to agree with Trapeznikov. Said the auto commissar, "The first task is to expand the independence and initiative of the enterprises on the basis of state tasks. There should be a moral and material interest from the director to the watchman."

And how does one achieve this moral and material interest? "Gear production in such a way as to cover expenses

If ex-Black Muslim Malcolm X accomplishes his latest goal, the United States may be in for some more attacks from abroad. The Black Nationalist leader is trying to "internationalize the American Negro problem."

He began a campaign in Cairo, Egypt, more than a month ago to persuade the heads of 33 independent African states to take "the cause of the American Negro before the United Nations' General Assembly this fall."

Precedents have been established for taking domestic issues of other nations before the Assembly. The odds are

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Solving the traveling salesman problem or designing comfortable brasieres—these and a lot of other sticklers can be handled quickly by a new kind of "Algorithm."

An algorithm is a way of calculating by means of nine figures and zero. A professor at the Krannert Graduate School of Industrial Administration, Purdue University, has developed a new algorithm to be used in conjunction with modern computers. He says the technique lets businessmen select almost instantly the best solution from up to billions of possible combinations.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

PAPER MAGNATE Sam Himmell tells about a wealthy financier who became the virtual slave of a reigning musical comedy queen. After squiring her aggressively for months, he decided to propose matrimony, but cautiously hired a private eye to shadow her for a spell to make sure she wasn't two-timing him. A fortnight later, he received this report: "Miss So-and-So enjoys a spotless reputation, and until this year her behavior has been exemplary. In recent months, however, she has wandered sadly from the paths of virtue, and is now being seen constantly with a banker who is said to be the biggest crook in Wall Street."

Norman Kline is one literary light who believes firmly that the title of a book can mean the difference between a rousing best-seller and a dismal failure. What might have been the fate, he asks, of seven all-time favorites, had they been named: (1) Moby Richard; (2) This Side of Paramus; (3) Farewell to Feet; (4) Happiness is a Hot Dog; (5) Gulliver's Trips; (6) Treasure Peninsula; and (7) Canoe of Fools?

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Recently, in our town, a policeman and a taxi driver delivered a healthy, normal baby before the mother could reach the hospital. Our children, 21 and 23, want to know how they could help if such an unusual situation should ever occur to them.

Mrs. K. R. F. Minnesota Dear Mrs. F.: Everyone should know something about the normal, natural and exciting phenomenon of childbirth, even though such an emergency delivery is not likely to occur.

When it does happen so quickly and unexpectedly it is almost always the child of a mother who has had other babies. In most instances, she actually can direct the activities.

In such a situation, it is best to let nature take its own course. Don't be impatient or try to do too much, too quickly or to heroically.

Wash the hands thoroughly, and keep the "delivery area" as clean as possible. When the baby arrives, keep the child warm and protected. A gentle slap on the backside will make him cry, and thus take his first deep breath. This usually starts normal, healthy breathing.

The baby is still attached to its mother's placenta, or "after-birth," by the thick umbilical cord. Tie a clean piece of tape or string around this umbilical cord, about two inches from the infant's navel. Tie another piece of tape about an inch farther away. With a clean pair of scissors, cut between the two pieces of tape. This will stop even the mild amount of bleeding.

Cover the child's end of the cut umbilical cord with a clean piece of gauze or handkerchief.

On Returning from Holiday

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals is returning to the job after a three-day holiday weekend.

Some, of course, can't stand to be away from the usual routine of office or plant life. They return to it with glad neighs, as an old horse to its stall.

Others of us, on the other hand, need a little reindoctrination upon having to come back to the chafing of the daily rut. Freedom has made us a bit wild and coltish.

We need again to be reconciled to the thought that, while variety may be the spice of life, it is also good for our immortal souls to be back once more plodding through the old salt mine.

In that helpful spirit we have assembled some remarks by the sages of the ages on why work is good for what ails us:

"Where our work is, there let our joy be." — Tertullian.

"As a cure for worrying, work is better than whisky." — Thomas A. Edison.

"Let us work without protest: it is the only way to make life endurable." — Voltaire.

"Work keeps at bay three great evils: boredom, vice, and need." — Voltaire.

"Work! God wills it. That, it seems to me, is clear." — Gustave Flaubert.

"I don't pity any man who does hard work worth doing. I admire him. I pity the creature who doesn't work, at whichever end of the social scale he may regard himself as being." — Theodore Roosevelt.

Well, there's the case for the joys of good old work. But how about those stubborn rebels who have to be dragged kicking and screaming back to the job?

Here is some consolation for them:

"Never work when hungry." — Hippocrates.

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." — James Howell, 1650.

"Only horses work, and they turn their backs on it." — U.S. hobo proverb.

"I like work; it fascinates me. I can sit and look at it for hours. I love to keep it by me; the idea of getting rid of it nearly breaks my heart." — Jerome K. Jerome.

"Work only tires a woman, but it ruins a man." — African proverb.

"Work is for the birds!" — Hal Boyle.

Coming Struggle for Power?

By John Chamberlain

On the platform at the Atlantic City Democratic convention Bobby Kennedy was a figure to tug at your heartstrings. Behind him, as he spoke so feelingly of his dead brother, there loomed the gigantic pictures of Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey. Together, these pictures could be taken as a portent of sixteen years of the Democratic Party future. With Johnson in the White House until 1972, and with Humphrey taking over from 1972 to 1980, any lingering ambitions that the Kennedys might have for a political dynasty seemed permanently scotched.

A few days later, however, it was not Bobby Kennedy who was the man to be pitied. The person to feel sorry for was Mayor Bob Wagner of New York. Standing on the platform at the New York State Democratic convention at the 71st Regiment Armory on lower Park Avenue, Mayor Wagner praised Bobby Kennedy to the skies in nominating him for Senator from New York. But when the Mayor let slip a tell-tale phrase, he said he was thoroughly convinced "on balance" that Kennedy was the best possible candidate for Senator that the Democrats might choose. The words "on balance" thundered through the hall; they brought up the vision of desperate hours of soul-searching on the Mayor's part about the probable control of the Democratic Party in the State once Kennedy energy, Kennedy prestige, Kennedy money, Kennedy relatives, and Kennedy friends had all gone to work to send Bobby to Washington to fill the shoes once occupied by Herbert Lehman or the senior Robert Wagner.

Lyndon Johnson supporters will tell you, though not for attribution, that the emergence of Bobby Kennedy in New York State is something that is meaningless in national power terms. They point to their man, Eddie Weiss, who has taken over Carmine de Sapio's spot as New York National Committeeman. The patronage, they say, will go through Wagner's hands, not Kennedy's. And anyway, Johnson's choice of Humphrey as Vice President has boxed Kennedy in, nationally speaking. Humphrey is the ADA's man, he is labor's man, and, as a Minnesotan, he is the farmer's man. Without the ADA-labor-farmer Left to fuel them, the machines built up by the Kennedys in 1960 can do little more than sputter.

RICHARD, YOU'RE RICH—Fireman Richard G. Shaw smilingly holds up a copy of a New York newspaper which informed him he is the missing heir to a $250,000 estate. An elderly writer, Bushnell Dimond, left the money to Shaw, who had befriended him about 16 years ago. Says the father of two, "I'm still trying to figure it out."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Wearin' o' the Green?

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I went to a wedding reception. After the gifts had been opened, the bride passed her shoe around to be filled with money. I had never seen anything like it before. Is that the custom nowadays? It seems to me if you take a gift, that should be enough. The people I have asked said they had never heard of such a thing either, and I wonder if you or any of your readers have. Thank you.

SHOCKED
DEAR SHOCKED: I have never heard of this "custom" either. Next they'll be passing the GROOM'S shoe around. The bigger the foot the greater the loot.

DEAR ABBY: First of all, these names are fictitious. My son, John, married Jane, a lovely quiet girl who worked to help John finish college. They have been married three years. Jane has a friend, who is pretty, unmarried and vivacious. Well, I think Linda goes to John and Jane's apartment a little too often for everybody's good. She has stayed with them on weekends and holidays. (She sleeps on the pull-down bed in the living room.) When Jane's mother suddenly became ill last month, she flew to be with her in another state. Linda then moved into Jane's apartment to "keep house" for John. (In a 3 room apt.) I am not inferring that there was anything wrong, but it looked bad. I've already heard some talk about them. Even though my son is bright and always been a good boy, I don't know how strong he is against temptation. Jane is not the jealous or suspicious type, but I think someone should tell her not to be so trusting. Should I?

USE ANY NAME
DEAR USE: Your son is the one you should talk to. If he's "bright" he will quickly see the light. And if he's "good" he will want to avoid the appearance of evil. And if something IS going on, he'll know he isn't fooling anyone.

DEAR ABBY: That paragraph out of your book, DEAR TEENAGER, telling girls exactly what to say to boys who ask them to "prove their love" was wonderful advice. I could have used it four years ago.

I was in love with a boy I would have done anything for. And I did. Everything you listed happened to me. I committed an immoral act. I threw away my self respect. I lost my reputation, and I did get in trouble.

If young girls would only listen to your advice daily, they could save themselves and their parents a lot of heartaches.

Judge Shuns Subpoena for Johnson Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge has killed requests to subpoena an assistant to President Johnson, the acting attorney general and the head of the space agency in a civil suit against Bobby Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority.

"I suggest you go ahead and pursue your law suit in reference to specific issues instead of trying to pursue a congressional investigation," U.S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff told Attorney David Carliner.

Carliner is attorney for Capitol Vending Co., which is suing Baker on a charge of using his influence with high officials to get a contract to another firm. The suit, filed a year ago, touched off the investigation of Baker's outside business activities.

Carliner had asked to subpoena Walter Jenkins, assistant to the President; acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach; James E. Webb, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges.

In quashing the request for subpoenas, Holtzoff said Capitol Vending could, however, submit written questions to Webb and Jenkins.

The matter of a subpoena for Hodges was bypassed when attorneys said the secretary of commerce had agreed to supply records requested by Capitol Vending.

Capitol wanted to subpoena the four officials for pretrial depositions and to supply records the firm contends are pertinent to its $300,000 damage suit against Baker.

Baker resigned from his Senate post after the Senate investigation was launched into charges he had improperly used his influence with high government officials in his private business dealings.

Harsha Speaks Amendment To Poverty Bill Accepted

Congressman William H. Harsha of Ohio's 6th District announced today that the Johnson Administration had agreed to accept an amendment to the Appalachia Bill which he suggested striking from the bill a provision authorizing an expenditure of $17 million for pasture improvement in the Appalachia area.

Congressman Harsha said this section of the bill would increase beef production at a time when the markets are already flooded with an excess of beef.

He said the federal government has already spent approximately $100 million this year for the purchase of surplus beef to alleviate the market situation. In addition to that, he said the Senate has placed in the Foreign Aid Appropriation Bill some $50 million to buy additional surplus beef for gift to foreign countries.

Harsha claimed that it was fiscally irresponsible, under these circumstances, to spend more taxpayers money to increase the production of beef.

He said he was pleased that the Administration saw the merit of his suggestion and was willing to accept it. This should further enhance the passage of the Appalachia Bill, he concluded.

Franklin Man Accused In Fatal Stab Case

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Three charges stemming from the fatal stabbing of an Oklahoman during a tavern brawl over a woman have been filed against James W. Morris, 23, Franklin.

Morris is charged with first degree manslaughter, malicious destruction of property and disorderly conduct. Bradford McGuire, 27, Franklin, also has been accused of the latter two charges as a result of the brawl early Sunday near Franklin. Killed in the fight was Luther Wayne White, 20, Broken Arrow, Okla.

Famed Dog 'Checkers' Is Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — "Checkers," former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's famous dog, is dead.

The black and white cocker spaniel, who gained national attention in a telecast by Nixon in 1952, was 12 years old.

She was under a veterinarian's care when she died Sunday.

An aide said Nixon, his wife and their two daughters regarded "Checkers" as a member of the family.

The family has another dog, "Vicki," a toy poodle.

In a 1952 speech, while he was campaigning for vice president, Nixon detailed his finances and told of the home the family had bought, of his wife's "respectable Republican cloth coat, and of "Checkers", who had been given to the family by a friend.

The address frequently was referred to afterward as the "Checkers" speech.

Jagan Fights To Remain Guiana Premier

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Dr. Cheddi Jagan has turned in his prophet's robes for the trappings of a practical politician to avert election defeat this fall.

The consensus is that the darkly handsome Marxist prime minister will fail.

But to British Guianese who consider Jagan's ouster a certainty, the forthcoming elections will amount to no more than changing the driver of the same old bus route. This is because of a spreading belief that the wave of racial violence between Guianese of East Indian and of African descent has gone beyond political control.

Without internal peace and a common objective, little hope is held for the development of this troubled colony, whether the leader be Jagan or his arch-rival, Negro leader L. Forbes Burnham.

Reflecting the opinion of some prominent Guianese, Police Commissioner Peter Owen said recently: "Neither Jagan nor Burnham can govern without the consent of the other. I'm afraid violence has now gone beyond the realm of politics."

Owen, a ruddy-faced Briton, commands a force of 1,600 men and 600 volunteers, often badly overmatched in 24 months of almost continuous civil strife. Terrorist violence since February has claimed 161 lives, 24 persons are missing, more than 800 wounded and damage to property and crops is estimated at over $2.5 million.

The violence has evolved around the controversial personalities of Jagan and big, erudite Burnham, 41, a lawyer-Shakespearian scholar with a large following among the Negro middle and poor classes, but viewed warily by some intellectuals who say they see in him a thirst for power.

A Socialist and political ex-colleague of Jagan, Burnham bosses the Peoples' National Congress from a small office marked simply "leader." Party members refer to each other as "comrade."

There is little doubt that Burnham enjoys the full support of the U.S. and British governments. Jagan, the first Marxist with a clear-cut mandate in Western Hemisphere history and winner of three elections in the last decade, has been unable to govern successfully because of strong resistance at home, in London and in Washington to his policies. They are regarded as too far left.

Jagan apparently has decided the image cast by his left-wing extremist posture has cut too deeply into the ranks of his Peoples' Progressive party following to survive the new election test.

Persons close to the party hierarchy report Jagan and his strategists are considering a public denunciation of communism.

The strategy is to overcome the election maneuver through which the British hope to oust Jagan and eventually grant independence to this long-unwanted colony. Under pressure from Washington, Britain has refused to let British Guiana go while Jagan remains leader.

The British Colonial Office has devised a proportional representation formula — bitterly opposed by Jagan and his party — for elections expected sometime in November.

Theoretically, in the absence of a clear majority for any of the three major parties, the prime ministry would go to a coalition — in this case the Burnham party and the arch-conservative United Force party. They got 41.3 and 16 per cent, respectively, of the 1960 vote.

Although their programs have key basic issues—independence and social reform—in common, Jagan and Burnham differ vigorously on points that have proven irreconcilable and would rule out a coalition at this time.

Confronted with formidable obstacles, Jagan seems bent on recovering lost ground in the urban areas he had neglected in favor of the rice paddies and sugar plantations, where his following borders on the mystical.

Measured against the tempo of racial violence, most of the campaign talk sounds hollow. There are only thin hopes that election results will restore peace.

Lebanon Holds 2 Men Sought by FBI Agents

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Two men wanted by the FBI for parole violation have been apprehended and were being held Tuesday night in the Warren County jail.

Ralph E. Sexton, 24, Clarksville, and David P. Mull, Wilmington, were picked up late Monday after an eight-mile high speed auto chase by sheriff's deputies. Mull was charged with reckless driving.

Penney's Catalog Sales Desk Opens on Thursday

The J. C. Penney Company's local department store is making final preparations for the opening of a catalog sales desk.

George A. Fuhrman, store manager, said the new sales department will open on Thursday.

The catalog program, which will make available to customers many additional lines of merchandise, eventually will include Penney stores throughout the country. The local store was one of the first in the chain to be selected for the catalog sales.

The Penney Company has started its second year of catalog publication with the issuance of the fall and winter general book. The 1,106-page catalog, one-third of which is in full color, is being distributed primarily in the Midwest and Eastern areas serviced by the company's Milwaukee distribution center.

Fuhrman said the catalog sales area will be located prominently in the store and copies of the new catalog will be available there beginning tomorrow. Customers will be able to place orders by telephone or in person. There will be daily truck deliveries of merchandise.

The local manager said the new catalog is divided almost evenly between Penney's traditional line of "soft goods" and newer lines of "hard goods" including auto accessories, tires and batteries, home furnishings, sporting goods, paint and hardware.

Shown for the first time in a Penney catalog are the chain's own-label floor-care appliances and typewriters.

The line of floor-care appliances, being supplied by The Hoover Company, includes upright and canister vacuum cleaners along with a shampoo-polisher.

Manufactured by SCM Corporation, the Penncrest portable typewriters are highlighted

7 Teenagers Appear before Juvenile Judge

Seven teenagers appeared in Pickaway County Juvenile Court Friday for violating traffic laws.

One of the youths also appeared on a delinquency charge and was handed a three-year probationary sentence. The juvenile traffic offenders and their sentences were as follows:

Ted Harber, Route 2, Ashville, had his operator's license suspended for three months for reckless operation and disregarding a stop sign.

James Noble, Route 4, was handed a $10 suspended fine and suffered the loss of his driving rights for 30 days for driving across wet paint lines on the highway. He was granted permission to drive for work.

David E. Valentine, 146 Walnut St., had his license suspended for 30 days on a charge of speeding. He was also fined $10 and costs and the fine was suspended.

Ronny K. Agin, Route 4, appeared before the court the second time and the judge ordered his license suspended for three months except for work. A $10 fine was suspended.

Gary D. Hoffman, 170 Hayward Ave., was handed a suspended fine of $10 and had his operator's license suspended for 30 days for making unnecessary noise with his car.

Clark Rader, 100 Northridge Road, had his operator's license suspended for 30 days on a charge of speeding. He was also handed a suspended fine of $10.

Howard M. Reeser, 600 Renick Ave., suffered the loss of his driving rights for six weeks for speeding and making excessive noise with his vehicle. He was granted permission to drive to Columbus where he attends school. A $10 fine was suspended.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a new breed of speechwriters at work.

Just read the speeches by President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

They're not like those in 1960 by Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Johnson has become a one-sentence-to-a-paragraph man, with one idea to a sentence.

After each sentence he looks around till the audience digests it.

Take his Labor Day speech in Detroit:

"This is a great day in an historic place.

"Here, and today, we begin to move toward new years of achievement for America.

"Sixteen years ago an American president came here and promised that America would 'enter a new period of hope.'

"You gave him support and he gave you that hope."

Goldwater goes for short sentences, too, but often bunches them in one paragraph.

He tries to give them a roll, a grandeur, with high-sounding abstract words like peace, freedom, liberty.

Here are some from his campaign opener Sept. 3:

"We mean something far different from the opposition party. We mean:

"Peace through preparedness.

"Peace through freedom."

"Purpose through constitutional order.

"These are the themes we shall make resound across this great land of ours, and across an anxious, troubled and listening world."

Kennedy relied on fairly short sentences, but not as terse as Johnson's, and usually packaged them in a paragraph.

Here's Kennedy making a Labor Day speech in Detroit in the 1960 campaign:

"I am taking my case to the American people in the next two months because I believe that the American people should decide which direction this country is going to go. The issue is before you and I am confident that in November you will make a choice for progress, not for standing still."

Kennedy's instinct for clarity and brevity was so good he made up that part of his speech after his prepared speech had been released to the press.

The prepared one wasn't that simple, that quick:

"I am taking my case to the American people because that is where it belongs — because that is where there will be no threat of veto or parliamentary obstruction — and because that is where we can always place our confidence."

Because Nixon lacked Kennedy's sense of composition, he didn't get across as easily as Kennedy, and maybe that's one of the things that hurt him.

His sentences were often too stretched as one of his first 1960

By James Marlow

speeches shows:

"I call upon all the people here, whether you are Republicans or Democrats or independent, to hear what I have to say, to hear me on the issues, and then to make your decision — not on the basis of the party label, even though you happen to be a member of my party — but on the basis of whether you think what I stand for is best for America."

The trouble with Johnson's bang-bang-bang is that he may make people hard of hearing.

And Goldwater may put them to sleep if he keeps playing that peace-liberty-freedom record over and over, as he says he will.

Ever wonder why milk should be scalded before using it in a yeast dough? Because scalding destroys a bacteria that might be inimical to yeast. If the milk is evaporated, however, the scalding is not necessary.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Wearin' o' the Green?

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I went to a wedding reception. After the gifts had been opened, the bride passed her shoe around to be filled with money. I had never seen anything like it before. Is that the custom nowadays? It seems to me if you take a gift, that should be enough. The people I have asked said they had never heard of such a thing either, and I wonder if you or any of your readers have. Thank you.

SHOCKED
DEAR SHOCKED: I have never heard of this "custom" either. Next they'll be passing the GROOM'S shoe around. The bigger the foot the greater the loot.

DEAR ABBY: First of all, these names are fictitious. My son, John, married Jane, a lovely quiet girl who worked to help John finish college. They have been married three years. Jane has a friend, who is pretty, unmarried and vivacious. Well, I think Linda goes to John and Jane's apartment a little too often for everybody's good. She has stayed with them on weekends and holidays. (She sleeps on the pull-down bed in the living room.) When Jane's mother suddenly became ill last month, she flew to be with her in another state. Linda then moved into Jane's apartment to "keep house" for John. (In a 3 room apt.) I am not inferring that there was anything wrong, but it looked bad. I've already heard some talk about them. Even though my son is bright and always been a good boy, I don't know how strong he is against temptation. Jane is not the jealous or suspicious type, but I think someone should tell her not to be so trusting. Should I?

USE ANY NAME
DEAR USE: Your son is the one you should talk to. If he's "bright" he will quickly see the light. And if he's "good" he will want to avoid the appearance of evil. And if something IS going on, he'll know he isn't fooling anyone.

DEAR ABBY: That paragraph out of your book, DEAR TEENAGER, telling girls exactly what to say to boys who ask them to "prove their love" was wonderful advice. I could have used it four years ago.

I was in love with a boy I would have done anything for. And I did. Everything you listed happened to me. I committed an immoral act. I threw away my self respect. I lost my reputation, and I did get in trouble.

If young girls would only listen to your advice daily, they could save themselves and their parents a lot of heartaches.

TOO LATE
CONFIDENTIAL TO HARD LUCK HARRY IN SCHENED-TADY: Many of us don't recognize that opportunity is knocking until we hear it knocking next door.

You can usually count on a large lime yielding two tablespoons of juice.

Miss Young Is Bride of Jon Carnahan

MRS. JON DEE CARNAHAN

Miss Cindy Sue Young became the bride of Mr. Jon Dee Carnahan, Aug. 29, in the parsonage of the Baltimore Methodist Church, Baltimore. The Rev. Paul E. Lindsey performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, Ashville. Mr. Carnahan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Carnahan, Ashville.

Mrs. Carnahan has been associated with Media Records, Inc., Columbus. Mr. Carnahan is employed with the Beaumont Bridge Construction Co., Columbus.

The couple resides at Route 6, Cambridge.

Members of Circle Scheduled To Meet

Circle No. 9, WSCS of the First Methodist Church will meet 1:30 p. m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Ned Kraft, Route 4.

THE BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU'S CODE
Because we approve heartily and observe the intent of their rules to protect the public, we reproduce here their regulations which guide us in the way we operate our pharmacy.

1. SERVE THE PUBLIC WITH HONEST VALUES.
2. TELL THE TRUTH ABOUT WHAT IS OFFERED.
3. TELL CUSTOMERS WHAT THEY WANT to know — what they have the right to know, and ought to know so they may buy wisely and obtain maximum satisfaction.
4. BE PREPARED AND WILLING to make good as promised and without quibble on any guarantee offered.
5. BE SURE THAT THE NORMAL use of merchandise or service offered will not be hazardous to public health or life.
6. AVOID ALL TRICKY DEVICES and schemes such as fictitious list prices, false and exaggerated comparative prices, bait advertising, misleading free offers, fake sales and similar practices which prey on human ignorance and gullibility.

WE TRY OUR VERY BEST to follow every one of the Better Business Bureau's rules. If we ever unknowingly violate any of them, we will consider it a great favor if you tell us about it.

A 16-year-old senior, Joan will lead the 42 piece marching band for the second year in a row. Miss Enoch plays clarinet with the band during the concert season. She also sings alto in the mixed chorus, is active in 4-H Club and is a member of Whisler Presbyterian Church.

Oldtime Religion Offered
In Heart of Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For 30 years the Country Church of Hollywood has dispensed its oldtime religion, and it's still going strong.

You'll find it not many steps from Hollywood and Vine, yet when you enter its grounds, shaded by tall jacaranda, camphor and pine trees, the din of the city seems far away. And as you enter the white-steeped church, you are transported to another, simpler era.

TV Networks
Shun Medics'
$750,000

NEW YORK (AP)—The three national television networks today confirmed published reports that they refused about $750,000 in revenue offered by the American Medical Association for one-minute commercials dramatizing AMA opposition to the Johnson administration's medical care plan.

Spokesmen for the National Broadcasting Co., the Columbia Broadcasting System and American Broadcasting Co. all said it was against network policy to sell a minute of time for a controversial issue.

They noted that such was not the case for political campaign commercials or any issue involving the electorate—such as an impending referendum.

The AMA has hired Fuller & Smith & Ross, Inc., New York advertising agency, for the television phase of its campaign which also would utilize newspapers and radio.

Arthur E. Duram, an executive of the agency, said the AMA probably will attempt to place the proposed television advertising on local stations in "20 or 30" major cities.

Duram said he was not surprised at the networks' refusal to carry the one-minute announcements, but he believed individual stations would accept them.

There was no immediate comment from the AMA.

At services on Sunday morning and evening and at prayer meetings Wednesday night, the rafters ring with the sounds of gospel singing and the word of the Lord as spoken by the Rev. Rudy Atwood. Thus, the vision of the "Goose Creek parson" is carried on many years after his death.

Martha Hogg, daughter of the founder and member of the board of trustees, talks proudly of the building, modeled after a small church in Ashland City, Tenn., that her father had visited as a circuit rider.

He was William Bennett Hogg, a high school principal in Mississippi until he received the call to enter the service of God. He became a Methodist minister, served as chaplain in World War I and was on General Pershing's staff in Germany during the occupation.

The Rev. Mr. Hogg returned to the ministry, but in 1928 he suffered a nervous breakdown. "Doctors said it was the strain of having to bury 3,000 young men during the war," his daughter explained.

After his recovery, he prayed to determine whether he should return to preaching. The answer seemed to be yes, and he turned to evangelism. He appeared at large tabernacles in Chicago and Los Angeles.

It was here that he found himself without a job, and he suggested to radio station KFAC a program about a country parson.

The minister and his wife became known as Josiah and Sarah Hopkins, and their program was a local favorite. Through it he saw the fulfillment of a dream.

"Hollywood is the most preposterous place to build a country church," he said. "That's why I want to build it here. I want a church with none of the high pressure of today's religion. A little church we don't have to fill, one which people don't feel they have to come to or contribute to."

And so the country church rose on Argyle Street.

Rev. Mr. Hogg died in 1937, three years after the country church was built.

Ohio Turnpike In 16th Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's nationally famous Turnpike Commission began its 16th year Tuesday. And many of those who were on the scene originally still are very much a part of its program.

For example, James White Shocknessy was presiding as chairman, as he has at virtually every one of the 178 meetings since the commission first fathomed Sept. 8, 1949, in the office of then-Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

At the Columbus attorney's right as usual was the vice chairman of the past 15 years, O. L. Teagarden of Oak Harbor.

Another commissioner, Charles J. Chastang—a veteran, but not around at the start—added to the occasion by noting that it was his birthday as well.

And Shocknessy noted that state Highway Director P. E. Masheter, who sits on the commission by virtue of his office, was in the state highway department and interested in the northern Ohio toll road back at the beginning.

Several staff members also are veterans, the chairman said, including James D. Hartshorne, director of information and research. Shocknessy recalled that Hartshorne covered the commission in its early days as a reporter for the Plain Dealer in Cleveland.

Business never has been better, the commission agreed. August income was reported to be a record $3.5 million, and Shocknessy predicted 1964 revenue will top $27 million. He also said he expects Turnpike bonds to be retired by 1980, a dozen years ahead of schedule.

Noting that 25 deaths have been recorded on the 241-mile road this year, Shocknessy said

Faubus Sends Invitations To Humphrey

LITTLE ROCK, Ar. (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus today invited Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, to make two speeches in Arkansas Sept. 17-18.

Faubus joined with officials of the Arkansas Democratic party in asking Humphrey to speak at the Democratic State Convention Sept. 18.

And he joined officials of Arkansas' rural electric Co-operatives in asking the senator to address a national co-op meeting at Hot Springs the day before.

The invitations were extended by telegram. Faubus released copies at his office today.

"I hope you will find it possible to accept these invitations," said Faubus, who so far has been lukewarm in his support for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket.

He was one of the Southern governors who did not attend the Democratic National Convention.

NEW SERVICE — Mrs. Earl Wallace (above) is pictured here in the new catalog sales department of the local J. C. Penney Company store, which is slated to open tomorrow. A feature of the new service will be 72-hour delivery on all orders made by telephone or in person. The new service will make many additional lines of merchandise available to customers.

Penney's Catalog Sales Desk Opens on Thursday

The J. C. Penney Company's local department store is making final preparations for the opening of a catalog sales desk.

George A. Fuhrman, store manager, said the new sales department will open on Thursday.

The catalog program, which will make available to customers many additional lines of merchandise, eventually will include Penney stores throughout the country. The local store was one of the first in the chain to be selected for the catalog sales.

The Penney Company has started its second year of catalog publication with the issuance of the fall and winter general book. The 1,106-page catalog, one-third of which is in full color, is being distributed primarily in the Midwest and Eastern areas serviced by the company's Milwaukee distribution center.

Fuhrman said the catalog sales area will be located prominently in the store and copies of the new catalog will be available there beginning tomorrow.

Customers will be able to place orders by telephone or in person. There will be daily truck deliveries of merchandise.

The local manager said the new catalog is divided almost evenly between Penney's traditional line of "soft goods" and newer lines of "hard goods" including auto accessories, tires and batteries, home furnishings, sporting goods, paint and hardware.

Shown for the first time in a Penney catalog are the chain's own-label floor-care appliances and typewriters.

The line of floor-care appliances, being supplied by The Hoover Company, includes upright and canister vacuum cleaners along with a shampoo-polisher.

Manufactured by SCM Corporation, the Penncrest portable typewriters are highlighted

7 Teenagers Appear before Juvenile Judge

Seven teenagers appeared in Pickaway County Juvenile Court Friday for violating traffic laws.

One of the youths also appeared on a delinquency charge and was handed a three-year probationary sentence. The juvenile traffic offenders and their sentences were as follows:

Ted Harber, Route 2, Ashville, had his operator's license suspended for three months for reckless operation and disregarding a stop sign.

James Noble, Route 4, was handed a $10 suspended fine and suffered the loss of his driving rights for 30 days for driving across wet paint lines on the highway. He was granted permission to drive for work.

David E. Valentine, 146 Walnut St., had his license suspended for 30 days on a charge of speeding. He was also fined $10 and costs and the fine was suspended.

Ronny K. Agin, Route 4, appeared before the court the second time and the judge ordered his license suspended for three months except for work. A $10 fine was suspended.

Gary D. Hoffman, 170 Hayward Ave., was handed a suspended fine of $10 and had his operator's license suspended for 30 days for making unnecessary noise with his car.

Clark Rader, 100 Northridge Road, had his operator's license suspended for 30 days on a charge of speeding. He was also handed a suspended fine of $10.

Howard M. Reeser, 600 Renick Ave., suffered the loss of his driving rights for six weeks for speeding and making excessive noise with his vehicle. He was granted permission to drive to Columbus where he attends school. A $10 fine was suspended.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a new breed of speechwriters at work.

Just read the speeches by President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

They're not like those in 1960 by Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Johnson has become a one-sentence-to-a-paragraph man, with one idea to a sentence.

After each sentence he looks around till the audience digests it.

Take his Labor Day speech in Detroit:

"This is a great day in an historic place.

"Here, and today, we begin to move toward new years of achievement for America.

"Sixteen years ago an American president came here and promised that America would 'enter a new period of hope.'

"You gave him support and he gave you that hope."

Goldwater goes for short sentences, too, but often bunches them in one paragraph.

He tries to give them a roll, a grandeur, with high-sounding abstract words like peace, freedom, liberty.

Here are some from his campaign opener Sept. 3:

"We mean something far different from the opposition party. We mean:

"Peace through preparedness.

"Peace through freedom."

"Purpose through constitutional order.

"These are the themes we shall make resound across this great land of ours, and across an anxious, troubled and listening world."

Kennedy relied on fairly short sentences, but not as terse as Johnson's, and usually packaged them in a paragraph.

Here's Kennedy making a Labor Day speech in Detroit in the 1960 campaign:

"I am taking my case to the American people in the next two months because I believe that the American people should decide which direction this country is going to go. The issue is before you and I am confident that in November you will make a choice for progress, not for standing still."

Kennedy's instinct for clarity and brevity was so good he made up that part of his speech after his prepared speech had been released to the press.

The prepared one wasn't that simple, that quick:

"I am taking my case to the American people because that is where it belongs — because that is where there will be no threat of veto or parliamentary obstruction — and because that is where we can always place our confidence."

Because Nixon lacked Kennedy's sense of composition, he didn't get across as easily as Kennedy, and maybe that's one of the things that hurt him.

His sentences were often too stretched as one of his first 1960

Dayton Tot Suffocated By Plastic Bag in Crib

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Gregory Drake, 8 months, suffocated in his west side home Tuesday when a plastic bag which had been draped over his crib fell on him, police said. The boy's mother said she had put the bag over the crib to keep flies away.

ON THE EVE of the formal opening of his presidential campaign, Sen. Barry Goldwater waves from the ramp of his plane at Phoenix, Ariz. He had flown to Washington just to vote against the administration's Social Security medicare bill.

ROBERT PETTY

LE Teacher Named Choir Director

Robert A. Petty, 502 Plaza Drive, is the new choir director at the First Presbyterian Church in Lancaster.

Petty succeeds Dr. C. Thomas Barr, who has been the choir director there and professor of music education at Ohio State University.

Petty was graduated from OSU School of Music in 1962 when he received a bachelor of science degree in Music Education. He majored in piano and earned a minor in voice.

While at OSU he studied piano with Miss Joan Brown and George Haddad. He had voice instruction from Louise Chambers.

FROM 1960 to 1962, Petty was choir director at Linden Church of Christ in Columbus. He is now in his 3rd year as director of music education at Logan Elm High School.

The 10:30 a. m. service at the First Presbyterian Church will be broadcast every Sunday morning in the month of October over a Lancaster radio station.

The church choir will be heard at this time. Petty and his wife, Sandra, have two daughters, Tami, age 2 years, and Trisha, who is 6 weeks old.

Circleville FD Douses 2 Fires

The Circleville Fire Department answered two calls yesterday to douse minor blazes.

For the third time in as many days, the city firefighters were called to the Circleville Auto and Truck Wrecking Salvage yard on Route 23 at 12:15 p. m.

A fire there burned two junk cars before it was brought under control. It started from a cutting torch.

At 1:05 p. m., a grass fire, believed to have started when a match was tossed into debris near the Pennsylvania Railroad at S. Washington St., was put out by the fire department.

Officials of the fire department listed no damage in either instance.

be a "good citizen."

E. D. Dodd, an executive vice president for Owens-Illinois, said the company hopes to construct a plant that both his firm and the community will be proud of and an operation that will make a contribution to the economy of this locality.

Henry C. Rudy, vice president of O-I's Forest Products Division, said a general manager for the Circleville plant has not yet been selected. He said the new facility head will come to this area in the near future after he has been named.

Coming in for a share of the spotlight was the famous Circleville Pumpkin Show. Levis indicated that he will make an effort to be here for this year's show.

Yesterday's groundbreaking marked the official start of construction for the new plant which is estimated to cost in excess of $1 million.

The installation, which will cover about four acres in the 40-acre tract purchased by Owens-Illinois, will comprise about 186,000 square feet. The operation will employ about 130 persons.

Plans call for the plant to be in production by next spring.

Oldtime Religion Offered In Heart of Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For 30 years the Country Church of Hollywood has dispensed its oldtime religion, and it's still going strong.

You'll find it not many steps from Hollywood and Vine, yet when you enter its grounds, shaded by tall jacaranda, camphor and pine trees, the din of the city seems far away. And as you enter the white-steeped church, you are transported to another, simpler era.

TV Networks Shun Medics' $750,000

NEW YORK (AP)—The three national television networks today confirmed published reports that they refused about $750,000 in revenue offered by the American Medical Association for one-minute commercials dramatizing AMA opposition to the Johnson administration's medical care plan.

Spokesmen for the National Broadcasting Co., the Columbia Broadcasting System and American Broadcasting Co. all said it was against network policy to sell a minute of time for a controversial issue.

They noted that such was not the case for political campaign commercials or any issue involving the electorate—such as an impending referendum.

The AMA has hired Fuller & Smith & Ross, Inc., New York advertising agency, for the television phase of its campaign which also would utilize newspapers and radio.

Arthur E. Duram, an executive of the agency, said the AMA probably will attempt to place the proposed television advertising on local stations in "20 or 30" major cities.

Duram said he was not surprised at the networks' refusal to carry the one-minute announcements, but he believed individual stations would accept them.

There was no immediate comment from the AMA.

Ohio Turnpike In 16th Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's nationally famous Turnpike Commission began its 16th year Tuesday. And many of those who were on the scene originally still are very much a part of its program.

For example, James White Shocknessy was presiding as chairman, as he has at virtually every one of the 178 meetings since the commission first fathered Sept. 8, 1949, in the office of then-Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

At the Columbus attorney's right as usual was the vice chairman of the past 15 years, O. L. Teagarden of Oak Harbor.

Another commissioner, Charles J. Chastang—a veteran, but not around at the start—added to the occasion by noting that it was his birthday as well.

And Shocknessy noted that state Highway Director P. E. Masheter, who sits on the commission by virtue of his office, was in the state highway department and interested in the northern Ohio toll road back at the beginning.

Several staff members also are veterans, the chairman said, including James D. Hartshorne, director of information and research. Shocknessy recalled that Hartshorne covered the commission in its early days as a reporter for the Plain Dealer in Cleveland.

Business never has been better, the commission agreed. August income was reported to be a record $3.5 million, and Shocknessy predicted 1964 revenue will top $27 million. He also said he expects Turnpike bonds to be retired by 1980, a dozen years ahead of schedule.

Noting that 25 deaths have been recorded on the 241-mile road this year, Shocknessy said

Faubus Sends Invitations To Humphrey

LITTLE ROCK, Ar. (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus today invited Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, to make two speeches in Arkansas Sept. 17-18.

Faubus joined with officials of the Arkansas Democratic party in asking Humphrey to speak at the Democratic State Convention Sept. 18.

And he joined officials of Arkansas' rural electric Co-operators in asking the senator to address a national co-op meeting at Hot Springs the day before.

The invitations were extended by telegram. Faubus released copies at his office today.

"I hope you will find it possible to accept these invitations," said Faubus, who so far has been lukewarm in his support for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket.

He was one of the Southern governors who did not attend the Democratic National Convention.

ROBERT PETTY

LE Teacher Named Choir Director

Robert A. Petty, 502 Plaza Drive, is the new choir director at the First Presbyterian Church in Lancaster.

Petty succeeds Dr. C. Thomas Barr, who has been the choir director there and professor of music education at Ohio State University.

Petty was graduated from OSU School of Music in 1962 when he received a bachelor of science degree in Music Education. He majored in piano and earned a minor in voice.

While at OSU he studied piano with Miss Joan Brown and George Haddad. He had voice instruction from Louise Chambers.

FROM 1960 to 1962, Petty was choir director at Linden Church of Christ in Columbus. He is now in his 3rd year as director of music education at Logan Elm High School.

The 10:30 a. m. service at the First Presbyterian Church will be broadcast every Sunday morning in the month of October over a Lancaster radio station.

The church choir will be heard at this time. Petty and his wife, Sandra, have two daughters, Tami, age 2 years, and Trisha, who is 6 weeks old.

Circleville FD Douses 2 Fires

The Circleville Fire Department answered two calls yesterday to douse minor blazes.

For the third time in as many days, the city firefighters were called to the Circleville Auto and Truck Wrecking Salvage yard on Route 23 at 12:15 p. m.

A fire there burned two junk cars before it was brought under control. It started from a cutting torch.

At 1:05 p. m., a grass fire, believed to have started when a match was tossed into debris near the Pennsylvania Railroad at S. Washington St., was put out by the fire department.

Officials of the fire department listed no damage in either instance.

Everett Mehrlay has resumed his duties as music teacher in the Teays Valley School System this week after being under the care of a doctor with an infected foot. The infection was the result of an insect bite.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dietz of Akron and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Trimble and children of Kent, were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Trimble.

Sandy, Terry and Jeff.

On Thursday Ashville-Harrison Volunteer Firemen were called to the home of Dale Pettibone in South Bloomfield to extinguish a fire in a clothes dryer. Estimated loss was $250. Fireman Paul Crumley was stricken with plastic poisoning while at the fire and was taken to Mercy Hospital for treatment. He was released from the hospital the next morning.

Richard Hudson of Philadelphia was the weekend guest of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Grant, Carla, Barbara and Jimmy of St. Louis were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Graham of South Bloomfield and Mrs. Frances Grant, Ashville.

The Ashville Women's Civic Club met Thursday in the Teays Valley High School cafeteria for the first meeting of the fall season. Mrs. Benis Lutz led the group in devotions. Mrs. Art Deal gave a report and also named the committees for the District 7 Conference to be held in Ashville Sept. 30. She reported that the program for the day would be held in the Methodist Church with the Luncheon being served at the First English Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Richard Brough, president of District 7 Ohio Federation of Womens Clubs, gave a talk on "What Federation Means To Your Club". Also present was Barbara Williams, president of the Junior Ohio Federation of Womens Clubs of District 7.

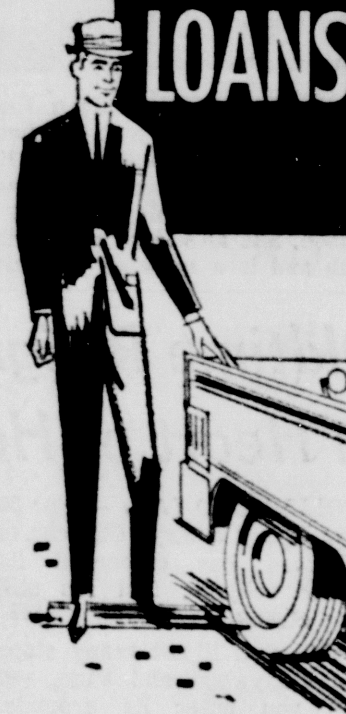

Miss Rutha Giese was introduced and gave a brief report on Buckeye Girls State Convention at Capital University. Miss Giese was sponsored by the club. Miss Betty Jean Thomas, the recipient of the Louise Millar Cromley scholarship, was also introduced and gave a few remarks.

The group had invited other women of the community to attend the meeting, to learn more of the club and to become members in the near future. Hospitality committee for the evening consisted of Mrs. Donald Flierl, Mrs. Alfred Axe, Mrs. Charles Helser, Mrs. Robert Knode, Miss Nelle Oesterle, Mrs. Curtis Cromley and Mrs. Robert Sliwinski.

The Knights of Pythias of District No. 11 will hold their annual picnic Sunday, Sept. 13 at the Grange Building on the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. All members, Pythian Sisters and their families are invited to attend. A basket dinner will be held at 5:30 p. m. with dancing and games to follow.

MOTION SICKNESS

Q. I can hardly go on a vacation because of car sickness. Would I get just as sick if I traveled by air?

A. You might or might not. It seems strange but a person can be affected by one type of motion and not by another. For example, someone could be unaffected in a small boat but be made sick by the slower movements of bigger ships. A dancer or skater who can spin like a top without discomfort may get extremely sick after a few ups and downs on a seesaw.

STINGS

Q. Last summer I was stung by a wasp and became violently sick. Would the same thing happen if I am stung by a bee?

A. Venom of the wasp, hornet, yellowjacket and honeybee contains a common poison. A person who reacts violently to the sting of one of these insects would probably react just as violently to the sting of the others. People who are known to be very sensitive to insect stings can be desensitized or made less reactive. Your doctor can give you all the information about how this is done.

AL Pennant Chase Grows Still Tighter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American League pennant contenders have gone through four fifths, but each day makes it more difficult for one of them to break out the champagne.

With less than one-fifth of the season remaining, Baltimore leads the see-saw battle, but Chicago is only one-half game behind and New York is just one game back. Only six percentage points separate the Orioles from the Yankees.

The race became the tightest it's been since Aug. 5 when the Yankees edged Minnesota 2-1 Tuesday night.

Only 18 days ago, even many of the most astute baseball observers were counting out the Yankees. They were in third place then, too, but they were 5½ games from the top.

Since that time, they have won 12, the last five in a row, and lost just four. In the same period, the Orioles won eight of 17 while the White Sox were 9-10.

The Yankees now have two more games remaining than the Orioles — 25 to 23 — and are even in losses. In other words, if the Yankees win their two extra games, they would have the same record as Baltimore.

The White Sox, on the other hand, have 20 games left and have lost two more games than the other contenders, putting them at a statistical disadvantage.

None of the teams plays each other the rest of the season. That is, unless they meet in a playoff.

The Yankees nosed out Minnesota on Elston Howard's run-scoring single in the seventh inning. Roger Maris started the rally with a double and eventually reached third on a sacrifice bunt by Joe Pepitone. Howard brought him home with a single to center field.

Maris also figured in the Yankees' first-inning run. He singled Tony Kubek to third from where he scored on Mickey Mantle's sacrifice fly. The Twins tied it in their half of the first on singles by Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles and a pair of force plays.

Rookie right-hander Mel Stottlemyre scattered nine hits for his fifth victory against two defeats. Camilo Pascual suffered his 11th setback in 24 decisions.

In the National League's only game, Los Angeles nipped first-place Philadelphia 3-2 on run-scoring doubles by Jim Gilliam and John Roseboro in the first inning.

Maury Wills started the first with a single and stole second. Gilliam doubled in Wills and went to third as Willie Davis singled. Both runners then came home on Roseboro's double.

The Phillies scored a run in the second on a sacrifice fly by Gus Triandos and one in the seventh on Ruben Amaro's single following a double by Triandos.

The Citadel, Davidson, East Carolina, Furman, George Washington, Richmond, Virginia Military Institute, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, West Virginia and William & Mary are members of the Southern Conference.

Reds Poised For Big Drive In NL Race

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds put their pennant desires back on the line tonight hopeful of at least taking over undisputed second place in the National League at the expense of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Reds, St. Louis and San Francisco are deadlocked in second place. All three picked up a half-game Tuesday as the first place Philadelphia Phillies lost to Los Angeles.

The Cardinals clash with the Phils tonight and the Giants take on the Los Angeles Dodgers this afternoon.

The Reds were still moaning the doubleheader loss to St. Louis Labor Day which moved them into the three-way tie. But acting manager Dick Sisler warned not to count Cincinnati out of the running.

"Remember, we were counted out several times during the last five weeks, but we always bounced back," he said. "And I'm confident we'll do it again. The fellows really want to win this one for Hutch, who I'm happy to report, is feeling considerably better," Sisler added.

Hutch is manager Fred Hutchinson who is on a leave of absence in an attempt to recover from a cancer condition.

Sisler said he plans no drastic lineup changes at this time, although the hitting has been on the weak side. He named Joey Jay (9-10) to face the Pirates Bob Veale (15-10) in the first of two games with the Pirates. But Sisler wasn't sure who his catcher would be.

Tribe Hopes To Move Up In AL Play

CLEVELAND (AP) — If the Cleveland Indians continue to play as well as they did in August, they could move up several notches in the American League standings.

The Indians, now in seventh place, trail Minnesota by one-half game and are four behind fourth-place Detroit.

There are 20 games left on the Tribe schedule. Fourteen of them are at home, including two two-night doubleheaders against the surging New York Yankees, three against Chicago and the same number against front-running Baltimore.

Cleveland has reversed its trend of the past few seasons during which it started off with a bang and ended up with a fizzle.

The Tribe dropped out of the first division in early June, skidded as low as eighth in July and has been trying to climb ever since.

Birdie Tebbetts' men did exceptionally well in August, winning 20 and losing 10 for a .667 percentage. At home they racked up a .737 percentage, taking 14 of 19 games.

In September so far Cleveland has a 3-4 record, for a won-lost percentage of .429.

The Indians open a two-game series tonight against Boston, entertain the Chicago White Sox over the weekend and play Washington twice before moving on to Detroit. After that they return home to meet the Yankees in a four-game series.

Redskin '11' May Spring Surprises in NFL Play

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Washington Redskins may have a few surprises ready for their National Football League opponents if coach Bill McPeak can generate his enthusiasm in the ranks.

The Redskins host the Cleveland Browns in their opener Sunday.

Washington finished sixth in the Eastern conference last season with a 3-11 record. McPeak was given the green light to start trading in an effort to bolster the club. Since then he has been busier than a yeast salesman at a bakers' convention.

First McPeak went hunting for a quarterback to replace Norman Snead. He landed Sonny Jurgensen from the Philadelphia Eagles along with Jimmy Carr for Snead and defensive back Claude Crabb.

Then came linebacker Sam Huff from the New York Giants, who McPeak labels "a good leader, a helluva guy." McPeak gave up tackle Andy Stynchula and halfback Dick James for Huff and rookie end George Seals.

With Jurgensen and Huff in the stable, McPeak feels he has the horses to make it an interesting race in the east.

Buckeyes To Face Double Scrimmage

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes' Ohio State Buckeyes face two scrimmages today with four players sidelined by injuries after a double workout Tuesday in 90-degree weather.

Two more regulars joined full-back Will Sander on the injury list after the afternoon session. Linebacker Ike Kelley twisted a knee and left half Tom Barrington received a groin injury. Earlier, Dan Porretta, a guard, received a slight concussion.

In all, 20 Buckeyes have injuries of one sort or the other. Coach Hayes scheduled defensive and offensive scrimmage sessions today and plans more for Friday.

Umpires Report 'We Wuz Robbed'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It was just another night of minor league baseball at Jet Stadium — except the umpires' room was ransacked, two fans were hit by foul balls and required medical aid, and another fan had a heart attack in the parking lot.

International League umpires Tom Ravashiere and Pete D'Ambrosio lost $108 in the theft during the Columbus-Atlanta doubleheader Tuesday night.

The two teams split the twin bill, each winning 4-1.

"I'll tell you this," he said, "it's the best team in my six years here."

Like most pro teams, the Redskins need a clicking passing attack to move. Jurgensen will have ex-Brown Bobby Mitchell as flanker, one of the best runners in the game. Pat Richter, a 6-foot-5 end from Wisconsin has a year's experience under his belt.

For insurance, McPeak obtained Angelo Coia, speedy end from the Chicago Bears.

The coach pins his running game on Charley Taylor, a rookie from Arizona State, and Tom Tracy, with Billy Barnes and Don Bosseler ready for duty. Taylor was a first-round draft choice.

Unlike the Browns, who sustained some injuries against the Green Bay Packers last week, the Redskins are lined up and ready for duty.

"We're in good shape," said McPeak. "Nobody's injured." The Redskins lost their first three exhibition games, then bounced back to whip the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals, one of the favorites in the Eastern Division.

BROTHERS — Steve Helwagen (left) congratulates his younger brother, Bruce, upon winning the Pickaway Country Club Championship. Veteran PCC members said it was the first time brothers had ever met in the final match of the championship flight at the Country Club. It is the second consecutive year Bruce, who graduated from Circleville High School this year, has won the coveted trophy. Steve graduated from CHS in 1962.

LANDSDOWNE WINNER — Garner Cox, who admits he hits his woods as well as any of the clubs in his bag, earned the first flight title at Upper Lansdowne on Labor Day. Cox fired a 36-36-74 on the par 36 course.

San Diego, Buffalo Given Nod As American Football Loop Kings

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Diego Chargers and the Buffalo Bills are the pre-season picks to fight it out for the American Football League championship Dec. 26 at Buffalo after the most exciting season in the league's five-year history.

Sid Gillman's Chargers, hailed as a super team after their 51-10 rout of Boston last January, figure to win it again unless Tobin Rote's arm fails him. Gillman's champions can not afford to be complacent, for both Kansas City and Oakland appear capable of challenging for the Western Division crown. Denver also should be improved with Jack Lee at quarterback.

The Eastern Division looks like another wild scramble, with no definite stickouts. If Cookie Gilchrist stays healthy, the Bills appear the best of the lot despite a questionable pass defense. Houston is experimenting with rookies in its deep defense under its new coach, Sammy Baugh, and could be in trouble if anything happened to 36-year-old George Blanda. New York stakes it all on Dick Wood, who has a record of knee trouble. Boston, the defending division champs on a 26-8 playoff victory over Buffalo, must rely on its defensive unit.

Here's the way it looks from here:

WESTERN DIVISION

1. San Diego
2. Kansas City
3. Oakland
4. Denver

EASTERN DIVISION

1. Buffalo
2. Houston
3. New York
4. Boston

The Chargers finally won their first title last season with an 11-3 record. Gillman has the same well-balanced offense with Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe to run the ball and fleet Lance Alworth and Dave Kocourek to catch Rote's passes. If Rote's sore arm acts up, the Chargers will drop back to John Hadl. Ron Mix is the key to the offensive line and big Ernie Ladd and Earl Faison lead the defense.

Don't sell Kansas City short. Hank Stram's Chiefs, the flop of the year in 1963, are primed for

Sunny Jim, Only 90, Is OK after Surgery

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, the hardy, old retired trainer, was reported in good condition early today after undergoing an emergency appendectomy Tuesday night.

The 90-year-old dean of thoroughbred race horse trainers, who retired last year, was expected to remain in a Jackson Heights hospital for a week or more.

taking runnerup honors and Brian Bell defeated Fred Davis in the third flight finale.

Winner of the Men's Director Tournament was Fred Davis. Maynard Eaton finished second in the event.

THE 8 TO 10 year old division of the Junior Tournament was won by Richard Speakman. Gregg Heiskell finished second.

Bill Adkins was the winner in the 11 to 14-year-old division with Candy Sibbick finishing second.

The 12 to 18 year old division went to Bruce Helwag, with Chuck Smith capturing the second place trophy.

Tom Cassidy, Pickaway Country Club pro, issued a reminder today the men's fall roundup will be played Sept. 19.

Members who wish to compete are to contact Cassidy at the pro shop. He noted guests are welcome to the event.

New 35-Story Building Slated for Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — An $18 million, 35-story office building to be known as Provident Tower is to be built on the site of the downtown Sinton Hotel, slated for demolition Oct. 1. The Sinton was built in 1907. Construction on Provident Tower is to begin next May.

a comeback. Stram has the horses with Curt McClinton, Jack Spikes, and Abner Haynes, plus rookie Mack Lee Hill. Pass-catcher Chris Burford is due back before long. The defense should be better with Bobby Bell and Buck Buchanan in their second year.

Al Davis, AFL coach of the year in 1963, will be in the contention again with his Raiders, especially with the acquisition of halfback Billy Cannon, one-time star of the Houston Oilers who had been hobbled with injuries in the past two seasons.

The Raiders got Cannon in a trade for three players — guard Sonny Bishop, fullback Bob Jackson and offensive end Dobie Craig.

A healthy, determined Cannon would give Davis a tremendous one-two running punch with Clemon Daniels, the AFL's leading ground gainer of 1963, to go with his aerial circus headed by quarterback Tom Flores and pass-catching Art Powell.

The addition of Lee, from Houston, gives Denver something it did not have last year. Lee to Lionel Taylor should be a tough combination.

Buffalo and Houston have a big edge on talent in the East, for wealthy owners have stocked up for years in the draft. The Bills would have won last year if Gilchrist and Wray Carlton had been available all year. Jack Kemp and Daryle Lamonica are a formidable passing threat. Defensive tackle Tom Sestak is a standout but the pass defense is leaky.

Houston unloaded Cannon, who has been tiffing with Baugh, and will rely on Charlie Tolar Jackson, a 6-foot-2, 240;

pounder, and rookie Sid Blanks of Texas A & I for its running. Baugh has problems in the secondary and must go with inexperienced linebackers.

Matt Snell, a rookie from Ohio State, should help the Jets' ground game but they must count on passing to do the job. Wood has a fine exhibition season and he has some fine receivers in Bake Turner and Don Maynard. Defense can be a problem here, too, although Weeb Ewbank's boys looked good in an exhibition win over San Diego.

Mike Holovak always does a great job at Boston but the Pats still have to count on 34-year-old Babe Parilli and Larry Garron. The defense is solid with Houston Antwine, Larry Eisenhauer, Nick Buoniconti and Tommy Addison.

NEXT—NFL PICKS

PCC CHAMP AND CADDY — Candy Sibbick, 13-years-old, is the youngest person to ever win a golf championship at the Pickaway Country Club. During Sunday's match, her father, Bill Sibbick, served as caddy. Candy has had only one lesson from a golf professional during the five years she has been playing.

PCC Trophy Presentation Is Highlight of Golf Season

The summer's golf activities at the Pickaway Country Club were climaxed Labor Day with the annual presentation of trophies.

Highlight of the ceremony was the presentation of the championship trophies to Candy Sibbick and Bruce Helwag.

Joanne York was presented the runnerup trophy in the championship flight, Grace Frasure the trophy for winning the first flight and Lucille Wilson the trophy for winning the second flight.

First flight runnerup was Elsie Edstrom and Tillie Smith was runnerup in the second flight.

THE LADIES Family Tournament was won by Shirley and Dean MacFadden. Lucille and Roy Wilson were second.

The 18-Hole Handicap trophy went to Sue Spires. Hester Welton was second in the event. Winning the Nine Hole Handicap trophy was Elsie Edstrom. Jan Sibbick was second.

The most improved golfer award went to Jane Curtain, and the Ringer Tournament winner was Charlotte Cassidy.

In the men's golfing events, Steve Helwag was runnerup in the championship flight. The first flight saw George Fuhrman defeat Tim Dickinson. John Wardell won the second flight trophy with Roy Wilson

Meet the Tigers

MIKE WELLS

TERRY LAMBERT

Mike Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Wells, 484 E. Main St., and Terry Lambert, son of Mrs. Louise Lambert, 138 Rosewood Ave., are two Circleville football candidates. Lambert is a 232 pound senior who is seeking a tackle berth on the Tiger team, while Wells is a 180 pound backfield prospect. He is a sophomore.

AL Pennant Chase Grows Still Tighter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American League pennant contenders have gone through four fifths, but each day makes it more difficult for one of them to break out the champagne.

With less than one-fifth of the season remaining, Baltimore leads the see-saw battle, but Chicago is only one-half game behind and New York is just one game back. Only six percentage points separate the Orioles from the Yankees.

The race became the tightest it's been since Aug. 5 when the Yankees edged Minnesota 2-1 Tuesday night.

Only 18 days ago, even many of the most astute baseball observers were counting out the Yankees. They were in third place then, too, but they were 5½ games from the top.

Since that time, they have won 12, the last five in a row, and lost just four. In the same period, the Orioles won eight of 17 while the White Sox were 9-10.

The Yankees now have two more games remaining than the Orioles — 25 to 23 — and are even in losses. In other words, if the Yankees win their two extra games, they would have the same record as Baltimore.

The White Sox, on the other hand, have 20 games left and have lost two more games than the other contenders, putting them at a statistical disadvantage.

None of the teams plays each other the rest of the season. That is, unless they meet in a playoff.

The Yankees nosed out Minnesota on Elston Howard's run-scoring single in the seventh inning. Roger Maris started the rally with a double and eventually reached third on a sacrifice bunt by Joe Pepitone. Howard brought him home with a single to center field.

Maris also figured in the Yankees' first-inning run. He singled Tony Kubek to third from where he scored on Mickey Mantle's sacrifice fly. The Twins tied it in their half of the first on singles by Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles and a pair of force plays.

Rookie right-hander Mel Stottlemyre scattered nine hits for his fifth victory against two defeats. Camilo Pascual suffered his 11th setback in 24 decisions.

In the National League's only game, Los Angeles nipped first-place Philadelphia 3-2 on run-scoring doubles by Jim Gilliam and John Roseboro in the first inning.

Maury Wills started the first with a single and stole second. Gilliam doubled in Wills and went to third as Willie Davis singled. Both runners then came home on Roseboro's double.

The Phillies scored a run in the second on a sacrifice fly by Gus Triandos and one in the seventh on Ruben Amaro's single following a double by Triandos.

The Citadel, Davidson, East Carolina, Furman, George Washington, Richmond, Virginia Military Institute, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, West Virginia and William & Mary are members of the Southern Conference.

Reds Poised For Big Drive In NL Race

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds put their pennant desires back on the line tonight hopeful of at least taking over undisputed second place in the National League at the expense of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Reds, St. Louis and San Francisco are deadlocked in second place. All three picked up a half-game Tuesday as the first place Philadelphia Phillies lost to Los Angeles.

The Cardinals clash with the Phils tonight and the Giants take on the Los Angeles Dodgers this afternoon.

The Reds were still moaning the doubleheader loss to St. Louis Labor Day which moved them into the three-way tie. But acting manager Dick Sisler warned not to count Cincinnati out of the running.

"Remember, we were counted out several times during the last five weeks, but we always bounced back," he said.

"And I'm confident we'll do it again. The fellows really want to win this one for Hutch, who I'm happy to report, is feeling considerably better," Sisler added.

Hutch is manager Fred Hutchinson who is on a leave of absence in an attempt to recover from a cancer condition.

Sisler said he plans no drastic lineup changes at this time, although the hitting has been on the weak side.

He named Joey Jay (9-10) to face the Pirates Bob Veale (15-10) in the first of two games with the Pirates. But Sisler wasn't sure who his catcher would be.

Palmer Still Tops Golf Winnings List

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—The $110,743 winnings of Arnold Palmer kept him ahead in the Professional Golfers' Association dollar standings today.

Palmer's total came from 22 tournaments. Jack Nicklaus, who played in 21 tournaments, was second with $101,917, followed by Tony Lema with $72,555.

Tribe Hopes To Move Up In AL Play

CLEVELAND (AP) — If the Cleveland Indians continue to play as well as they did in August, they could move up several notches in the American League standings.

The Indians, now in seventh place, trail Minnesota by one-half game and are four behind fourth-place Detroit.

There are 20 games left on the Tribe schedule. Fourteen of them are at home, including two two-night doubleheaders against the surging New York Yankees, three against Chicago and the same number against front-running Baltimore.

Cleveland has reversed its trend of the past few seasons during which it started off with a bang and ended up with a fizzle.

The Tribe dropped out of the first division in early June, skidded as low as eighth in July and has been trying to climb ever since.

Birdie Tebbetts' men did exceptionally well in August, winning 20 and losing 10 for a .667 percentage. At home they racked up a .737 percentage, taking 14 of 19 games.

In September so far Cleveland has a 3-4 record, for a won-lost percentage of .429.

The Indians open a two-game series tonight against Boston, entertain the Chicago White Sox over the weekend and play Washington twice before moving on to Detroit. After that they return home to meet the Yankees in a four-game series.

Redskin '11' May Spring Surprises in NFL Play

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Washington Redskins may have a few surprises ready for their National Football League opponents if coach Bill McPeak can generate his enthusiasm in to the ranks.

The Redskins host the Cleveland Browns in their opener Sunday.

Washington finished sixth in the Eastern conference last season with a 3-11 record. McPeak was given the green light to start trading in an effort to bolster the club. Since then he has been busier than a yeast salesman at a bakers' convention.

First McPeak went hunting for a quarterback to replace Norman Snead. He landed Sonny Jurgensen from the Philadelphia Eagles along with Jimmy Carr for Snead and defensive back Claude Crabb.

Then came linebacker Sam Huff from the New York Giants, who McPeak labels "a good leader, a helluva guy." McPeak gave up tackle Andy Stynchula and halfback Dick James for Huff and rookie end George Seals.

With Jurgensen and Huff in the stable, McPeak feels he has the horses to make it an interesting race in the east.

Buckeyes To Face Double Scrimmage

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes' Ohio State Buckeyes face two scrimmages today with four players sidelined by injuries after a double workout Tuesday in 90-degree weather.

Two more regulars joined full-back Will Sander on the injury list after the afternoon session. Linebacker Ike Kelley twisted a knee and left half Tom Barrington received a groin injury. Earlier, Dan Porretta, a guard, received a slight concussion.

In all, 20 Buckeyes have injuries of one sort or the other. Coach Hayes scheduled defensive and offensive scrimmage sessions today and plans more for Friday.

Umpires Report 'We Wuz Robbed'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It was just another night of minor league baseball at Jet Stadium — except the umpires' room was ransacked, two fans were hit by foul balls and required medical aid, and another fan had a heart attack in the parking lot.

International League umpires Tom Ravashiere and Pete D'Amrosio lost $108 in the theft during the Columbus-Atlanta doubleheader Tuesday night.

The two teams split the twin bill, each winning 4-1.

"I'll tell you this," he said, "it's the best team in my six years here."

Like most pro teams, the Redskins need a clicking passing attack to move. Jurgensen will have ex-Brown Bobby Mitchell as flanker, one of the best runners in the game. Pat Richter, a 6-foot-5 end from Wisconsin has a year's experience under his belt.

For insurance, McPeak obtained Angelo Coia, speedy end from the Chicago Bears.

The coach pins his running game on Charley Taylor, a rookie from Arizona State, and Tom Tracy, with Billy Barnes and Don Bosseler ready for duty. Taylor was a first-round draft choice.

Unlike the Browns, who sustained some injuries against the Green Bay Packers last week, the Redskins are lined up and ready for duty.

"We're in good shape," said McPeak. "Nobody's injured." The Redskins lost their first three exhibition games, then bounced back to whip the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals, one of the favorites in the Eastern Division.

Westfall Boosters Set Special Meet

There will be a special meeting of all members of the Westfall Booster Club 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Westfall High School auditorium.

All members are urged to attend so plans may be made for the open house to be held in September.

Navy has beaten Army in football the last five years.

BROTHERS — Steve Helwage (left) congratulates his younger brother, Bruce, upon winning the Pickaway Country Club Championship. Veteran PCC members said it was the first time brothers had ever met in the final match of the championship flight at the Country Club. It is the second consecutive year Bruce, who graduated from Circleville High School this year, has won the coveted trophy. Steve graduated from CHS in 1962.

LANSDOWNE WINNER — Garner Cox, who admits he hits his woods as well as any of the clubs in his bag, earned the first flight title at Upper Lansdowne on Labor Day. Cox fired a 38-36-74 on the par 36 course.

San Diego, Buffalo Given Nod As American Football Loop Kings

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Diego Chargers and the Buffalo Bills are the pre-season picks to fight it out for the American Football League championship Dec. 26 at Buffalo after the most exciting season in the league's five-year history.

Sid Gillman's Chargers, hailed as a super team after their 51-10 rout of Boston last January, figure to win it again unless Tobin Rote's arm fails him. Gillman's champions can not afford to be complacent, for both Kansas City and Oakland appear capable of challenging for the Western Division crown. Denver also should be improved with Jack Lee at quarterback.

The Eastern Division looks like another wild scramble, with no definite knockout. If Cookie Gilchrist stays healthy, the Bills appear the best of the lot despite a questionable pass defense. Houston is experimenting with rookies in its deep defense under its new coach, Sammy Baugh, and could be in trouble if anything happened to 36-year-old George Blanda. New York stakes it all on Dick Wood, who has a record of knee trouble. Boston, the defending division champs on a 26-8 playoff victory over Buffalo, must rely on its defensive unit.

Here's the way it looks from here:

WESTERN DIVISION

1. San Diego
2. Kansas City
3. Oakland
4. Denver

EASTERN DIVISION

1. Buffalo
2. Houston
3. New York
4. Boston

The Chargers finally won their first title last season with an 11-3 record. Gillman has the same well-balanced offense with Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe to run the ball and fleet Lance Alworth and Dave Kocourek to catch Rote's passes. If Rote's sore arm acts up, the Chargers will drop back to John Hadl. Ron Mix is the key to the offensive line and big Ernie Ladd and Earl Faison lead the defense.

Don't sell Kansas City short. Hank Stram's Chiefs, the flop of the year in 1963, are primed for a comeback. Stram has the horses with Curt McClinton, Jack Spikes, and Abner Haynes, plus rookie Mack Lee Hill. Pass-catcher Chris Burford is due back before long. The defense should be better with Bobby Bell and Buck Buchanan in their second year.

Al Davis, AFL coach of the year in 1963, will be in the contention again with his Raiders, especially with the acquisition of halfback Billy Cannon, one-time star of the Houston Oilers who had been hobbled by injuries in the past two seasons.

The Raiders got Cannon in a trade for three players — guard Sonny Bishop, fullback Bob Jackson and offensive end Doby Craig.

A healthy, determined Cannon would give Davis a tremendous one-two running punch with

Clemon Daniels, the AFL's leading ground gainer of 1963, to go with his aerial circus headed by quarterback Tom Flores and pass-catching Art Powell.

The addition of Lee, from Houston, gives Denver something it did not have last year. Lee to Lionel Taylor should be a tough combination.

Buffalo and Houston have a big edge on talent in the East, for wealthy owners have stocked up for years in the draft. The Bills would have won last year if Gilchrist and Wray Carlton had been available all year. Jack Kemp and Daryle Lamonica are a formidable passing threat. Defensive tackle Tom Sestak is a standout but the pass defense is leaky.

Houston unloaded Cannon, who has been tiffing with Baugh, and will rely on Charlie Tolar Jackson, a 6-foot-2, 240-

pounder, and rookie Sid Blanks of Texas A & I for its running. Baugh has problems in the secondary and must go with inexperienced linebackers.

Matt Snell, a rookie from Ohio State, should help the Jets' ground game but they must count on passing to do the job. Wood has a fine exhibition season and he has some fine receivers in Bake Turner and Don Maynard. Defense can be a problem here, too, although Web Ewbank's boys looked good in an exhibition win over San Diego.

Mike Holovak always does a great job at Boston but the Pats still have to count on 34-year-old Babe Parilli and Larry Garron. The defense is solid with Houston Antwine, Larry Eisenhauer, Nick Buoniconti and Tommy Addison.

NEXT—NFL PICKS

PCC CHAMP AND CADDY — Candy Sibbick, 13-years-old, is the youngest person to ever win a golf championship at the Pickaway Country Club. During Sunday's match, her father, Bill Sibbick, served as caddy. Candy has had only one lesson from a golf professional during the five years she has been playing.

PCC Trophy Presentation Is Highlight of Golf Season

The summer's golf activities at the Pickaway Country Club were climaxed Labor Day with the annual presentation of trophies.

Highlight of the ceremony was the presentation of the championship trophies to Candy Sibbick and Bruce Helwag.

Joanne York was presented the runnerup trophy in the championship flight, Grace Frasure the trophy for winning the first flight and Lucille Wilson the trophy for winning the second flight.

First flight runnerup was Elsie Edstrom and Tillie Smith was runnerup in the second flight.

THE LADIES Family Tournament was won by Shirley and Dean MacFadden. Lucille and Roy Wilson were second.

The 18-Hole Handicap trophy went to Sue Spires. Hester Weldon was second in the event. Winning the Nine Hole Handicap trophy was Elsie Edstrom. Jan Sibbick was second.

The most improved golfer award went to Jane Curtain, and the Ringer Tournament winner was Charlotte Cassidy.

In the men's golfing events, Steve Helwag was runnerup in the championship flight.

The first flight saw George Fuhrman defeat Tim Dickinson. John Wardell won the second flight trophy with Roy Wilson taking runnerup honors and Brian Bell defeated Fred Davis in the third flight finale.

Winner of the Men's Director Tournament was Fred Davis. Maynard Eaton finished second in the event.

THE 8 TO 10 year old division of the Junior Tournament was won by Richard Speakman. Gregg Heiskell finished second.

Bill Adkins was the winner in the 11 to 14-year-old division with Candy Sibbick finishing second.

The 12 to 18 year old division went to Bruce Helwag, with Chuck Smith capturing the second place trophy.

Tom Cassidy, Pickaway Country Club pro, issued a reminder today the men's fall roundup will be played Sept. 19.

Members who wish to compete are to contact Cassidy at the pro shop. He noted guests are welcome to the event.

New 35-Story Building Slated for Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — An $18 million, 35-story office building to be known as Provident Tower is to be built on the site of the downtown Sinton Hotel, slated for demolition Oct. 1. The Sinton was built in 1907. Construction on Provident Tower is to begin next May.

Sunny Jim, Only 90, Is OK after Surgery

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, the hardy, old retired trainer, was reported in good condition early today after undergoing an emergency appendectomy Tuesday night. The 90-year-old dean of thoroughbred race horse trainers, who retired last year, was expected to remain in a Jackson Heights hospital for a week or more.

Concerned about
Red Supply Lines

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson summoned his top military and diplomatic advisers to a White House conference today to consider new moves the United States might make to strengthen the anti-Communist war effort in strife-torn South Viet Nam.

Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, who returned from Saigon Monday, has already held two days of discussions with State and Defense department leaders on the South Vietnamese crisis.

The White House meeting was called for midmorning with Taylor, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara as principal participants.

Taylor held a private discussion with Johnson Tuesday night, presumably to lay the groundwork for today's session.

Informants said the consensus developed so far in the policy re-examination occasioned by Taylor's return to Washington is that the situation in South Viet Nam continues to be precarious due to the prolonged government crisis.

The crisis began in August and has brought several changes in top South Vietnamese government personnel. In the U.S. view, Premier Nguyen Khanh continues to provide the best hope for bringing order out of the political chaos in the country.

Taylor and top Washington officials are reported to feel that the highest priority in U.S. policy must still be assigned to the task of encouraging South Vietnamese leaders to create political stability and to concentrate their major military efforts in South Viet Nam itself.

It is also reported on excellent authority that Taylor is deeply concerned about the problem of the flow of supplies and reinforcements of trained Communist Viet Cong personnel from Red North Viet Nam into the south through the jungles of southeastern Laos.

The jungle trails led through the staging area in the vicinity of the Lao town of Tchepone, which is about 25 miles from the Lao-Vietnam border.

Taylor is understood to have told officials here that the U.S. government should consider making air strikes against the Communist concentration points around Tchepone as one means of interdicting the assistance to the Viet Cong of North Viet Nam.

In reports from Saigon, Taylor's position has been represented as one of a desire to broaden the war against the Reds. References to broadening the war ordinarily also embrace the idea of making attacks directly on military centers in North Viet Nam.

Informants here said Taylor has not urged broadening the war. Persons most familiar with his views on strategy and tactics say that Taylor has not in fact pressed for early air assault on the Tchepone area but has said that the question of making such strikes is one which the U.S. government should now consider seriously as a future line of action.

Officials here have been concerned in their talks with the problem of making clear to the Communist side that in spite of the political upheavals in Saigon and periodic talk in this country and abroad about a negotiated settlement, the United States has no intention of weakening its support for South Viet Nam or of withdrawing from the struggle.

State Aide Claims Federal Error in Freeing Dr. Sam

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The state of Ohio contended today that U.S. District Judge Carl A. Weinman lacked authority to void Samuel H. Sheppard's wife-murder conviction because the Cleveland osteopath failed to exhaust his remedies in Ohio courts.

Assistant Atty. Gen. David Kessler made the claim in a 600-page brief for filing with the U.S. Circuit of Appeals here.

The state is appealing Weinman's order permitting Sheppard to walk out of Ohio Penitentiary July 16 under $10,000 bond after nearly 10 years behind bars.

Weinman asserted that excessive publicity denied Sheppard a fair trial and ordered Cuyahoga County to retry him within 60 days or let him remain free.

The circuit court has scheduled an Oct. 8 hearing on the state's appeal. Counsel for Sheppard is expected to file a brief before that date.

Ohio's Supreme Court, which upheld Sheppard's second-degree murder conviction in the bludgeon slaying of his wife, Marilyn, July 4, 1954, dismissed his request for a habeas corpus release in 1961.

Kessler contended that the dismissal was procedural and that the court should act on merits of the action before Sheppard could go into federal court.

The brief said it was not shown that Cuyahoga County common pleas court jurors were prejudiced by widespread publicity at the trial as asserted by Weinman.

Kessler said it was not shown that some jurors, who were allowed use of a telephone during deliberations, were affected by their conversations which were termed improper.

The assistant attorney general asserted the trial was not affected by reference to lie detector tests taken by Bay Village Mayor Spencer Hoak, a neighbor called by Sheppard after the slaying, or by Sheppard's refusal to take such a test if given only by police.

And he maintained evidence was lacking that conduct of the trial was affected by statements attributed to the late Judge Edward Blythin that Sheppard "is guilty as hell."

Since his release, Sheppard, 40, has married Ariane Tebben-Johanns, 34-year-old German divorcee with whom he corresponded while in prison.

Sentenced to a life term, Sheppard has been slated for parole consideration next month. He has maintained that his pregnant wife was bludgeoned fatally in the bedroom of their home west of Cleveland by a bushy haired intruder who knocked out Sheppard during a struggle in the dark.

Rhodes-Lutz Fight Still Running Hot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The battle between the Rhodes administration and Rowland R. Lutz continued today with the ousted parole official minus his office, his state car and — at least temporarily — his job.

The whole thing began last spring when Lutz was transferred as supervisor of Ohio's Bureau of Probation and Parole to the State Pardon and Parole Commission as a hearing officer.

That change—at no cut in pay — followed several instances of Lutz differing with Gov. James A. Rhodes over such thing as Rhodes' austerity program.

Over the weekend, Lutz was removed from his last post on an order signed by Commission Chairman J. Arthur Shuman who alleged that Lutz failed to turn in his state automobile when his jobs changed.

Lutz, terming the action "retaliatory . . . for my having defended the parole system against political intrusion," said he would appeal.

He told newsmen Tuesday he has turned in the car, a 1959 Plymouth which he said is in good condition and has been used by him for five years.

He also said he is moving out of commission offices and hopes for a prompt hearing before the State Personnel Board of Review.

TB Hospital's Practices Hit By Auditor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Financial practices at the Ohio Tubercular Hospital are under fire from the state auditor's office but a hospital spokesman says most of the bookkeeping abuses have already been corrected.

State Auditor Roger W. Tracy made his criticism Tuesday in reporting on an auditor's findings during a 151-week check of the hospital.

Tracy said the practice of treating non-tubercular patients without charge is costing the state $60,000 in revenue and although the hospital has no authority by law to stop the practice it should try to eliminate the revenue loss with insurance and private collections.

Tracy said the state loses $10.50 per patient per day for the non-TB cases. His examiner found 5,371 such patient days in his audit from April 8, 1961 through March 1, 1964.

Other practices criticized included:

—Counties being charged for patients' three-day leaves. The hospital spokesman replied that the patients are given drugs before they leave and their rooms are held for them.

—Employees are taking holiday time off before they work the holidays.

—The hospital is not making prompt deposits to the state's General Revenue Fund. The auditor found deposits made an average of once every three weeks. The law requires weekly deposits.

Harsha Opens Campaign Here

Congressman William H. Harsha of Ohio's sixth congressional district opened his campaign for reelection with a tour of Circleville and Pickaway County yesterday.

Harsha was present at the ground breaking ceremonies at the Owens - Illinois plant along with Governor James Rhodes and O-I officials.

He then attended the luncheon at Pickaway Arms.

In the afternoon, Harsha toured the General Electric Lamp Plant here as well as Du Pont's film plant.

FOLLOWING a dinner at Tink's Tavern with Ed Webb, chairman of the Pickaway County executive committee and other local Republican party officials, he delivered a prepared address at the GOP campaign headquarters.

Harsha attacked the present Democratic administration in his speech, singling out the current foreign aid policies and the anti-poverty bill in particular.

Harsha claimed that current foreign policy is "bankrupt of international leadership."

He cited foreign relations in Zanzibar, The Congo and Panama as examples of "U. S. timidity."

The administration's war on poverty was called a "slogan calculated to yield political mileage in multiple ratio to its political cost."

"The only authentic war on poverty is the creation of jobs within the framework of a free economy," the congressman said.

"THE ONLY way for the federal government to wage an effective war on poverty is to create a healthy climate for business and commerce."

Harsha commended the area for bringing new industry in to create more jobs.

Following his speech, he met and talked personally with most of the overflow crowd present at the meeting.

HARSHA HERE — Dave McDonald (left), Clarence Maxson, and Congressman William Harsha pause for an informal chat before Harsha addressed a group in Republican campaign headquarters here 8 p. m. yesterday. Maxson, who has recently returned from a trip to Europe, discussed conditions in foreign countries he toured.

Put stars in her eyes with her own Starlite phone

Treat her like the young lady she is, and give her a bright little STARLITE® phone of her own. She'll love the posh and privacy of this beauty with the dial that glows in the dark. And she can have it in a color to match her surroundings.

Call our Business Office today, and learn how little it will cost to have a STARLITE extension phone for your angel.
